KREMLIN GIVEN IKE'S CHALLENGE

Administration To Seek Draft Extension Even If War Ends

Nation Must Remain Strong, Editors Told

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration disclosed today it will ask Congress to extend the draft law beyond its 1955 expiration date even if fighting ends in Korea.

American defenses will remain "strong and alert" no matter how the international situation changes in the next few years, Dr. John A. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, told the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

A year from now, he said, defense chiefs will be appearing before Congress asking for an extension of the Selective Service Act. It is scheduled to expire June 30, 1955.

Press Cooperation Urged

"Should there be a period of relaxing international tension meanwhile," Hannah stated, "we hope the newspapers of the country will explain and reiterate to the people of this country the necessity for keeping our defenses strong and alert, even though it entails drafting of all young men for two years of involuntary service."

Congress will also be asked to continue the draft of medical officers beyond the June 30, 1954, expiration date, Hannah said.

The manpower chief estimated that in about 30 months the country will have exhausted its pool of men who can meet the current physical and mental standards for military service.

Not Enough 18-Year-Olds

"Assuming first that the strength of our uniformed forces will be continued at or near the present strength of 3½ million men and women, and second that the period of involuntary service remains at 24 months, we will continue to use manpower faster than the males in our population turn 18½ years of age and become eligible to be drafted," he said.

Hannah came to the Pentagon from the presidency of Michigan State College. His appearance at the annual meeting of the editors' society was the occasion of his first public address since joining the civilian high command at the Defense Department.

The "hard and unpleasant" facts of the draft situation, Hannah said, are a spur to the Defense Department to find better ways of using the country's military manpower. Studies are now under way toward this end, he said.

Housing Credit Curbs Placed On Peacetime Basis

WASHINGTON, April 17 (INS)—The government abolished tonight all Korean war restrictions on home purchases and placed housing credit controls on a peacetime basis again.

The government's action, announced by Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole, had the following effect:

1. Eliminated entirely the requirement for a down payment on homes purchased by veterans under the GI Bill of Rights. It is now four to five per cent of the value of a home.

Longer Time To Pay

2. Down payments will still be required on government-assisted Federal Housing Administration (FHA) loans, the exact amount depending on the size of the mortgage.

3. FHA and GI loans will be repayable in 25 to 30 years, instead of the 20 to 25 years required now. This will permit smaller monthly payments on mortgages.

Tonight's order eliminates restrictions imposed in October 1950 in the wake of the outbreak of the Korean War. The remaining controls are required by prior laws enacted during peacetime.

Step Toward Interest Hike?

Federal Housing authorities emphasized that while veterans will not be required by the government to make a down payment on a home, private lending institutions can still do so.

The action was widely regarded as a step in the direction of higher interest rates on all government-insured or government-guaranteed home mortgages.

Cole's decision will make it easier for thousands of families to buy homes, if they can obtain the necessary financing.

The removal of controls applies to all types of housing, both new and old.

Lineman Electrocuted

DENTON, Md., April 17 (AP)—D. Freeland (Fritz) Clopper, 40, line foreman for the Choptank Electric Cooperative, was electrocuted today while helping hang a transformer near Hurlock in Dorchester County.

Dr. Preston I George, who pronounced him dead, said Clopper remained snared in a live wire for 45 minutes before fellow workmen could free him.

Commerce Chief Says Astin Will Remain In Post

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks, faced with stormy protests over his ouster of Dr. Allen V. Astin as director of the National Bureau of Standards, announced tonight that Astin will remain in the post for several months.

Then he will be given a job of comparable grade where, Weeks said, his abilities will be used "in the national interest." Weeks said he had never questioned the integrity of Astin or the bureau.

Had Forced Resignation

Weeks previously had forced Astin's resignation. He said that, among other things, the Bureau of Standards had not been "sufficiently objective" in testing a powder designed to prolong the life of storage batteries. The bureau said the chemical was no good.

President Eisenhower had announced Astin's resignation effective tomorrow.

The ouster had aroused criticism from scientists and threatened to bring about mass resignations of scientists working at the bureau, the government's central research laboratory. Many of them are engaged on top secret defense project.

Astin Is "Gratified"

Calling Astin "a scientist of distinction who has served his country well," Weeks said today his differences with Astin had "literally nothing to do with scientific evaluations or conclusions." He said the differences concerned "administrative viewpoint and procedure."

He announced that Astin had agreed to stay on temporarily and made public a written statement by Astin saying that he was "gratified that the secretary has seen fit to reassure me and the bureau" that Weeks was not questioning his integrity or that of the bureau.

Blast Toll Reaches 26

CHICAGO, April 17 (INS) — Rescuers, aided by a giant power crane, recovered eight more bodies today from the ruins of the explosion-fire devastated Haber Corp., plant in Chicago.

The death toll in Thursday's disaster now stands at 26. Nine other employes are unaccounted for.

Reds Abandon Costly Attack

SEOUL, Saturday, April 18 (AP)—The Chinese Reds broke off their costly 1,000-man attacks Friday on Pork Chop Ridge and five other key peaks and quiet returned to the restless Western Front.

In the air war, the Fifth Air Force said Sabres knocked four MIGs from the skies of Northwest Korea and probably destroyed a fifth. Capt. Manuel Fernandez Jr. became the hottest active jet ace by bagging his 11th MIG. He maneuvered it into crashing without firing a shot.

Allied fighter-bombers again limited their attacks to ground targets north of the Central Front and along the East Coast to avoid any mistake attacks on Red convoys bearing Allied sick and wounded prisoners southward for the exchange beginning Monday.

Only the sound of long-range sniper fire and the occasional whomp of incoming artillery broke the quiet at the five hills west of Chorwon where U. S. and South Korean soldiers early in the day turned back savage Chinese attacks.

Engineer Killed As B. And O. Troop Train Leaves Rails

WEST UNION, W. Va., April 17 (AP)—A westbound Baltimore and Ohio troop train was wrecked just east of here tonight, killing the engineer and derailing six of the 10 cars, including five sleepers.

A railroad spokesman said the steam locomotive, a baggage car and one sleeper jumped a 40-foot embankment and overturned in a creek. Three other sleepers were turned over and were lying between the track and the creek. A kitchen car and a sleeper were derailed but were still upright and three other sleepers were still on the track.

The train was carrying troops from Ft. Meade, Md., to Las Vegas, Nev., according to the railroad. The railroad's headquarters in Baltimore reported that the officer in charge of the troops said none of the soldiers suffered much more than a few scratches.

Ambulances and fire engines were rushed to the scene, along U.S. Route 50, about 30 miles west of Clarksburg in North-Central West Virginia.

H. Earl Proudfoot, chief clerk at Grafton, identified the dead engineer as Ira W. McDowell of Parkersburg, W. Va. Gerald E. Marshall, the fireman, also of Parkersburg, was the only known injured. He was brought to a West Union hospital.

Railroad spokesman could not say how many men were aboard the train.

It consisted of eight pullmans, an Army cook car and a baggage car.

Proudfoot said soldiers in the five pullmans that left the track were put in the three remaining on the rails and were being returned to Clarksburg.

Proudfoot said cause of the wreck had not been determined.

The train was "only doing between 28 and 30 miles an hour" when it left the single track, he said.

Truce Talk Plans Parley Set

Allied And Red Liaison Officers To Meet Sunday

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, April 18 (AP) — The Communists today proposed that the first 25 disabled prisoners of war be handed over to the Allies at 9 a. m. Monday (7 p. m., EST, Sunday) and the second group of 25 be delivered a half hour later.

MUNSAN, Korea, Saturday, April 18 (AP)—The Allies and Communists Friday agreed to begin spadework Sunday at Panmunjom for renewed Korean armistice talks, which could collapse again if the Reds haggle.

Meanwhile, three convoys of U. S. and other Allied disabled prisoners reached nearby Kaesong, Communist truce camp, for the exchange of sick and wounded. The exchange begins Monday even though the fate of the armistice talks remains undecided at that time.

The Communists announced that a fourth convoy of 20 trucks, presumably carrying more Americans and non-Koreans, would begin the long journey south from stockades near the Manchurian frontier on Sunday.

Reds Halt Practice

The Communists Friday did not use the convoy routes to send swarms of trucks loaded with military supplies south to the front, as they did Wednesday and Thursday.

The Allies in accepting Communist requests for renewed negotiations made it clear they were sticking to the principle of voluntary return of prisoners, the issue over which the talks mired last Oct. 8. They also served notice that any new talks must produce quick results or go back into recess.

(The Communists showed no sign of backing down either. A Peiping broadcast heard in Tokyo said the principle that all prisoners must be returned "is one from which there can be no deviation."

Editorial Is Quoted

(The broadcast quoted an editorial in Peiping's World Culture which obviously was written before the Allies offered Friday to resume talks. However the broadcast came after the offer was made known.

(World Culture said an armistice "will not in itself mean peace in Korea and the Far East" but would help "immensely to the easing of international tension.")

The Allies early Friday proposed that liaison officers get together today to talk over details of resuming negotiations. The Communists then suggested 11 a.m. Sunday (9 p.m. Saturday, EST) and the Allies quickly agreed.

According to Friday's letter from the United Nations Command, the liaison groups' job will be "to discuss matters incidental to reopening plenary sessions of the armistice delegations as requested by your liaison group on 11 April."

Hoffman Traffic Trial Postponed

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — The on-again off-again traffic trial of Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) today is off-again — postponed indefinitely.

Hoffman had been scheduled to go up to Hagerstown, Md., next Tuesday morning without his congressional immunity and face Magistrate Paul Ottinger on a charge of doing over 65 in a 50-mile-per-hour zone.

Tonight he said the date has been postponed at his request and no other date has been set.

"It's sort of an agreement," he said.

"Business in the House will keep me from going up there Tuesday morning," he said. "I offered to go up today or tomorrow but they said the arresting officer wouldn't be available."

The 77-year-old Hoffman said he hadn't contacted Judge Ottinger personally but that "some one did for me."

Hoffman has said that "free speech" was an issue in his arrest April 1. He received permission from the House to waive his congressional immunity and "go up there and stand trial like any citizen."

Boy Escapes Blast Which Wrecks Car

Eleven-year-old John Forcillo, Philadelphia, looks over his parents' 1952 sedan which was reduced to a mass of rubble when it and the garage were blasted to bits by an explosion yesterday. Forcillo was asleep in his bedroom overlooking the garage to the left. Police, who could not determine any reason for the explosion, believed it came from dynamite planted in the car.

Burma Backs Up Charges Against Nationalist China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—With documents and photographs, Burma today backed up her charge that 12,000 Nationalist Chinese troops, directed from Formosa, are waging aggressive war on her soil. She won immediate support from the Soviet bloc, India and Yugoslavia, but Western delegates were silent.

Nationalist Chinese replied that the Chinese force in Burma is a "national salvation army" made up of heroes, but that Formosa does not have direct physical control of it. The Nationalist Chinese also pledged co-operation with Burma in trying to work out a solution.

Justice Myint Thein of Burma opened the assault in the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee with a 10,000-word speech supported by a mass of documents, pictures and maps. He contended Formosa is supplying the guerrillas with latest-type American weapons.

He urged the committee to approve a strongly-worded resolution which recommends that the Security Council condemn Formosa for aggression and for the council to take all necessary steps to stop acts of aggression by the "Kuomintang government of Formosa" against Burma.

T. F. Tsiang, Nationalist Chinese delegate, replied that Formosa feels the Burmese resolution is "not just." He said his government has not sent reinforcements and would commit itself not to give clearance from Formosa to any plane seeking to land near the Chinese in Burma.

The Burmese complaint is the last item before the Political Committee. Delegations said there is so much material in the speech and the supporting documents, which were handed by Burmese aides to delegates at the committee room door, that the debate would go on into next week.

German Wine Tanker Arrives In Bremen

BREMEN, Germany, April 17 (AP)—This may come as a surprise to some, but wine tankers ply the seas here.

Looking just like the low-slung ships which carry oil, these are loaded to the gunwales with the heady fermented juice of France and Spain.

Germany's first postwar wine tanker slipped into Bremen harbor late yesterday. Before anybody could say "here's how," plastic tubes were in her tanks and the pumps were going.

Washington Called 'Cocktail Capital'

CINCINNATI, April 17 (AP) — Dr. R. P. Shuler of Los Angeles, one of the founders of National Association of Evangelicals, last night called Washington "the cocktail capital of the world."

The 73-year-old Dr. Shuler, who spoke at the evangelicals convention here, said "I am convinced that the peril of America is not the deceit in the hearts of the so-called, peace-loving Communists, but in the fact that many of the men in Washington charged with thinking and dealing with the destiny of the world are half drunk."

Ike Recovering, Passes Up Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported on the mend today after an attack of food poisoning, although he still had "some abdominal pain."

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower returned to bed for the day at his vacation headquarters after getting up briefly at 7:30 a.m. for "a small, light breakfast."

Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, the President's physician, reported this morning that Eisenhower no longer had any fever.

Eisenhower was stricken early yesterday before he flew to Washington for a major foreign policy speech, an appearance at the baseball game in the capital, and an informal talk at Salisbury, N. C., on the way back to Augusta.

Eisenhower's indisposition ruled out golf for the day, but he hopes to get back on the Augusta National course tomorrow.

End To Housing Program Voted By House Group

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee took a 721½ million dollar swipe at the first of the regular money bills today and set the stage for a probable floor fight next week by voting to choke off the government's low rent housing program.

Some Democrats called the slashes in former President Truman's budget "phony," and said much of the money would have to be appropriated later.

The bill approved by the committee would appropriate $451,020,493 for 23 independent federal agencies for the 1954 fiscal year starting on July 1.

The committee figured this was $721,423,697 less than original Truman budget estimates, or a cut of 61 per cent. It is $542,516,350 less than the amount voted for the same agencies last year and, if sustained by Congress, will mean deep personnel cuts in many agencies.

In addition to cutting off the housing program, the committee bill would start getting the government out of the mortgage and and housing business by requiring it to dispose of home mortgages it now holds and to refund local housing bonds held by the Public Housing Administration.

The committee figures this would net the Treasury $1,945,472,000.

Altogether it was the biggest cut ever imposed on the independent offices appropriation bill.

The committee knocked out the entire $176,139,000 requested in Truman's January budget for the government's normal contribution to the civil service retirement and disability fund as well as all of the $192,015,000 requested for payment of interest on what the government already owes the fund. Operation of such a fund, the committee said, results in accumulation of money that might be put to better use.

Grunewald Draws Fishy Looks With His Fish Story

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Mystery man Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald drew fishy looks and a perjury warning today with a story that a New York attorney brought him a paper-wrapped package of fish—not a $60,000 payoff to fix a criminal tax case in 1948.

Amid some hilarity, Chairman Kean (R-NJ) of a House ways and means subcommittee indicated that Grunewald's fish story was all very amusing, but he declared sternly:

"The fish is important. Somebody is subject to perjury."

Gruenwald named Max Halperin, New York attorney, as the man who toted the fish to him, by train from New York.

"He (Halperin) brought me some sturgeon," Grunewald insisted, "and it wasn't filled with $60,000."

Halperin promptly testified that he never carried a fish to Washington on a train for Grunewald or anybody else.

Similarly, Milton Hoffman, New York accountant, cast doubt on the accuracy of Grunewald's memory. Grunewald had said he met Hoffman at Union Station here with Halperin.

Hoffman said he knew what a sturgeon was, all right, but declared he never saw anybody in Washington with a package of it.

Along with half a dozen other witnesses, Halperin and Hoffman had refused to say yesterday whether they knew anything of a purported payment of $60,000 to Grunewald in connection with a tax fraud case involving a New York meat firm.

And today they and other witnesses declined to answer questions by subcommittee counsel John Tobin whether Grunewald got $100,000 in another case concerning a New York dress company.

U. S. Awaiting Clear-Cut Red Reply To Plan

Winston Churchill Applauds President's World Peace Move

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — The United States delivered President Eisenhower's global disarmament challenge directly to the Kremlin today and embarked on a great campaign to build world-wide support for the President's peace plan.

In Moscow, foreign diplomats expressed belief there is a good chance of an official Soviet answer to the President.

In Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is taking a golfing vacation, a White House official indicated that the administration is awaiting a clear-cut response from the Soviets.

"We laid it on the line. We are now awaiting the answers," this official said.

Churchill Applauds Plan

Meanwhile, a swelling tide of applause for Eisenhower's peace move continued to roll in from free world capitals. British Prime Minister Winston Churchill called it "massive and magnificent."

Addressing a rally at Glasgow, Scotland, Churchill declared:

"He (Eisenhower) has set forth the range of practical issues which divide the world. He has declared the resolve of the free nations, headed and sustained by the giant power of the United States, not to weaken their defense measures until an honorable settlement is reached.

"But he has closed no door upon sincere efforts to reach a true world peace by good faith and good will. We give him our resolute and wholehearted support."

No Slackening In Defense

On Capitol Hill, Secretary of State Dulles emphasized the administration's determination not to slacken the defense buildup unless the Kremlin shows definite and speedy signs of easing world tensions.

Referring to Eisenhower's speech yesterday before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Dulles told newsmen:

"It is obvious that unless there is a very prompt response from the Soviet Union in a great many respects, it will be quite apparent it is necessary to move ahead on all fronts, East and West, to develop a strong position."

Seven American Civilians To Be Freed By Reds

WASHINGTON, April 17 (INS)—Russia informed the U. S. today that seven American civilians held by the North Korean Communists since the war began will be repatriated but said Catholic Bishop Patrick J. Byrne and two other men are dead.

The Soviet Foreign Office added that nothing is known of three other U. S. citizens who were trapped in Red North Korea at the outbreak of hostilities.

The Americans to be repatriated do not include International News Service War Correspondent Don Dixon, NBC Correspondent Richard Applegate and Merchant Marine Skipper Ben Krasner, who were captured by Chinese Communists near Hong Kong March 22. Their fate remains a mystery.

The seven Americans to be returned from North Korea as a result of the Russian intervention offered by the Soviets in line with the Kremlin's current "peace offensive" are:

The Rev. William Robert Booth, Maryknoll priest, New York City; Louis Leo Dans, Chicago, former State Department billeting officer; Nellie Arkansas Dyer, Methodist missionary, Van Buren Ark.

Anders Kristian Jensen, Danish-born Methodist missionary; Mary Helen Rosser, Methodist missionary, Macon, Ga.; Bertha Atkinson, Methodist missionary, Marshall, Mo., and Lawrence A. Zellers, engineer, Weatherford, Tex.

Engineer Killed As B. And O. Troop Train Leaves Rails

WEST UNION, W. Va., April 17 (AP)—A westbound Baltimore and Ohio troop train was wrecked just east of here tonight, killing the engineer and derailing six of the 10 cars, including five sleepers.

A railroad spokesman said the steam locomotive, a baggage car and one sleeper jumped a 40-foot embankment and overturned in a creek. Three other sleepers were turned over and were lying between the track and the creek. A kitchen car and a sleeper were derailed but were still upright and three other sleepers were still on the track.

The train was carrying troops from Ft. Meade, Md., to Las Vegas, Nev., according to the railroad. The railroad's headquarters in Baltimore reported that the officer in charge of the troops said none of the soldiers suffered much more than a few scratches.

Ambulances and fire engines were rushed to the scene, along U.S. Route 50, about 30 miles west of Clarksburg in North-Central West Virginia.

H. Earl Proudfoot, chief clerk at Grafton, identified the dead engineer as Ira W. McDowell of Parkersburg, W. Va. Gerald E. Marshall, the fireman, also of Parkersburg, was the only known injured. He was brought to a West Union hospital.

Railroad spokesman could not say how many men were aboard the train.

It consisted of eight pullmans, an Army cook car and a baggage car.

Proudfoot said soldiers in the five pullmans that left the track were put in the three remaining on the rails and were being returned to Clarksburg.

Proudfoot said cause of the wreck had not been determined.

The train was "only doing between 28 and 30 miles an hour" when it left the single track, he said.

Allied And Red Liaison Officers To Meet Sunday

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, April 18 (AP)—The Communists today proposed that the first 25 disabled prisoners of war be handed over to the Allies at 9 a. m. Monday (7 p. m., EST, Sunday) and the second group of 25 be delivered a half hour later.

MUNSAN, Korea, Saturday, April 18 (AP)—The Allies and Communists Friday agreed to begin spadework Sunday at Panmunjom for renewed Korean armistice talks, which could collapse again if the Reds haggle.

Meanwhile, three convoys of U. S. and other Allied disabled prisoners reached nearby Kaesong, Communist truce camp, for the exchange of sick and wounded. The exchange begins Monday even though the fate of the armistice talks remains undecided at that time.

The Communists announced that a fourth convoy of 20 trucks, presumably carrying more Americans and non-Koreans, would begin the long journey south from stockades near the Manchurian frontier on Sunday.

Reds Halt Practice

The Communists Friday did not use the convoy routes to send swarms of trucks loaded with military supplies south to the front, as they did Wednesday and Thursday.

The Allies in accepting Communist requests for renewed negotiations made it clear they were sticking to the principle of voluntary return of prisoners, the issue over which the talks mired last Oct. 8. They also served notice that any new talks must produce quick results or go back into recess.

(The Communists showed no sign of backing down either. A Peiping broadcast heard in Tokyo said the principle that all prisoners must be returned "is one from which there can be no deviation."

Editorial Is Quoted

(The broadcast quoted an editorial in Peiping's World Culture which obviously was written before the Allies offered Friday to resume talks. However the broadcast came after the offer was made known.

(World Culture said an armistice "will not in itself mean peace in Korea and the Far East" but would help "immensely to the easing of international tension.")

The Allies early Friday proposed that liaison officers get together today to talk over details of resuming negotiations. The Communists then suggested 11 a.m. Sunday (9 p.m. Saturday, EST) and the Allies quickly agreed.

According to Friday's letter from the United Nations Command, the liaison groups' job will be "to discuss matters incidental to reopening plenary sessions of the armistice delegations as requested by your liaison group on 11 April."

Hoffman Traffic Trial Postponed

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—The on-again off-again traffic trial of Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich) today is off-again — postponed indefinitely.

Hoffman had been scheduled to go up to Hagerstown, Md., next Tuesday morning without his congressional immunity and face Magistrate Paul Ottinger on a charge of doing over 65 in a 50-mile-per-hour zone.

Tonight he said the date has been postponed at his request and no other date has been set.

"It's sort of an agreement," he said.

"Business in the House will keep me from going up there Tuesday morning," he said. "I offered to go up today or tomorrow but they said the arresting officer wouldn't be available."

The 77-year-old Hoffman said he hadn't contacted Judge Ottinger personally but that "some one did for me."

Hoffman has said that "free speech" was an issue in his arrest April 1. He received permission from the House to waive his congressional immunity and "go up there and stand trial like any citizen."

Boy Escapes Blast Which Wrecks Car

Eleven-year-old John Forcillo, Philadelphia, looks over his parents' 1952 sedan which was reduced to a mass of rubble when it and the garage were blasted to bits by an explosion yesterday. Forcillo was asleep in his bedroom overlooking the garage to the left. Police, who could not determine any reason for the explosion, believed it came from dynamite planted in the car.

Burma Backs Up Charges Against Nationalist China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 17 (AP)—With documents and photographs, Burma today backed up her charge that 12,000 Nationalist Chinese troops, directed from Formosa, are waging aggressive war on her soil. She won immediate support from the Soviet bloc, India and Yugoslavia, but Western delegates were silent.

Nationalist Chinese replied that the Chinese force in Burma is a "national salvation army" made up of heroes, but that Formosa does not have direct physical control of it. The Nationalist Chinese also pledged co-operation with Burma in trying to work out a solution.

Justice Myint Thein of Burma opened the assault in the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee with a 10,000-word speech supported by a mass of documents, pictures and maps. He contended Formosa is supplying the guerrillas with latest-type American weapons.

He urged the committee to approve a strongly-worded resolution which recommends that the Security Council condemn Formosa for aggression and for the council to take all necessary steps to stop acts of aggression by the "Kuomintang government of Formosa" against Burma.

T. F. Tsiang, Nationalist Chinese delegate, replied that Formosa feels the Burmese resolution is "not just." He said his government has not sent reinforcements and would commit itself not to give clearance from Formosa to any plane seeking to land near the Chinese in Burma.

The Burmese complaint is the last item before the Political Committee. Delegations said there is so much material in the speech and the supporting documents, which were handed by Burmese aides to delegates at the committee room door, that the debate would go on into next week.

German Wine Tanker Arrives In Bremen

BREMEN, Germany, April 17 (AP)—This may come as a surprise to some, but wine tankers ply the seas here.

Looking just like the low-slung ships which carry oil, these are loaded to the [illegible]les with the heady fermen[illegible] France and Spain.

Germany's [illegible] postwar wine tanker slipped into Bremen harbor late yesterday. Before anybody could say "here's how," plastic tubes were in her tanks and the pumps were going.

"Are you married?" asked the lawyer.

Washington Called 'Cocktail Capital'

The 73-year-old Dr. Shuler, who spoke at the evangelicals convention here, said "I am convinced that the peril of America is not the deceit in the hearts of the so-called, peace-loving Communists, but in the fact that many of the men in Washington charged with thinking and dealing with the destiny of the world are half drunk."

Ike Recovering, Passes Up Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported on the mend today after an attack of food poisoning, although he still had "some abdominal pain."

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower returned to bed for the day at his vacation headquarters after getting up briefly at 7:30 a.m. for "a small, light breakfast."

Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, the President's physician, reported this morning that Eisenhower no longer had any fever.

Eisenhower was stricken early yesterday before he flew to Washington for a major foreign policy speech, an appearance at the baseball game in the capital, and an informal talk at Salisbury, N. C., on the way back to Augusta.

Eisenhower's indisposition ruled out golf for the day, but he hopes to get back on the Augusta National course tomorrow.

U. S. Sub For Holland

ROTTERDAM, The Netherlands, April 17 (AP)—The first of two American submarines leased to Holland for training of Dutch Navy personnel arrived in Rotterdam today.

End To Housing Program Voted By House Group

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee took a 721½ million dollar swipe at the first of the regular money bills today and set the stage for a probable floor fight next week by voting to choke off the government's low rent housing program.

Some Democrats called the slashes in former President Truman's budget "phony," and said much of the money would have to be appropriated later.

The bill approved by the committee would appropriate $451,020,493 for 23 independent federal agencies for the 1954 fiscal year starting on July 1.

The committee figured this was $721,423,697 less than original Truman budget estimates, or a cut of 61 per cent. It is $542,516,350 less than the amount voted for the same agencies last year and, if sustained by Congress, will mean deep personnel cuts in many agencies.

In addition to cutting off the housing program, the committee bill would start getting the government out of the mortgage and and housing business by requiring it to dispose of home mortgages it now holds and to refund local housing bonds held by the Public Housing Administration.

The committee figures this would net the Treasury $1,945,472,000.

Altogether it was the biggest cut ever imposed on the independent offices appropriation bill.

The committee knocked out the entire $176,139,000 requested in Truman's January budget for the government's normal contribution to the civil service retirement and disability fund as well as all of the $192,015,000 requested for payment of interest on what the government already owes the fund. Operation of such a fund, the committee said, results in accumulation of money that might be put to better use.

Grunewald Draws Fishy Looks With His Fish Story

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — Mystery man Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald drew fishy looks and a perjury warning today with a story that a New York attorney brought him a paper-wrapped package of fish—not a $60,000 payoff to fix a criminal tax case in 1948.

Amid some hilarity, Chairman Kean (R-NJ) of a House ways and means subcommittee indicated that Grunewald's fish story was all very amusing, but he declared sternly:

"The fish is important. Somebody is subject to perjury."

Gruenwald named Max Halperin, New York attorney, as the man who toted the fish to him, by train from New York.

"He (Halperin) brought me some sturgeon," Grunewald insisted, "and it wasn't filled with $60,000."

Halperin promptly testified that he never carried a fish to Washington on a train for Grunewald or anybody else.

Similarly, Milton Hoffman, New York accountant, cast doubt on the accuracy of Grunewald's memory. Grunewald had said he met Hoffman at Union Station here with Halperin.

Hoffman said he knew what a sturgeon was, all right, but declared he never saw anybody in Washington with a package of it.

Along with half a dozen other witnesses, Halperin and Hoffman had refused to say yesterday whether they knew anything of a purported payment of $60,000 to Grunewald in connection with a tax fraud case involving a New York meat firm.

And today they and other witnesses declined to answer questions by subcommittee counsel John Tobin whether Grunewald got $100,000 in another case concerning a New York dress company.

U.S. Awaiting Clear-Cut Red Reply To Plan

Winston Churchill Applauds President's World Peace Move

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP) — The United States delivered President Eisenhower's global disarmament challenge directly to the Kremlin today and embarked on a great campaign to build world-wide support for the President's peace plan.

In Moscow, foreign diplomats expressed belief there is a good chance of an official Soviet answer to the President.

In Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is taking a golfing vacation, a White House official indicated that the administration is awaiting a clear-cut response from the Soviets.

"We laid it on the line. We are now awaiting the answers," this official said.

Churchill Applauds Plan

Meanwhile, a swelling tide of applause for Eisenhower's peace move continued to roll in from free world capitals. British Prime Minister Winston Churchill called it "massive and magnificent."

Addressing a rally at Glasgow, Scotland, Churchill declared:

"He (Eisenhower) has set forth the range of practical issues which divide the world. He has declared the resolve of the free nations, headed and sustained by the giant power of the United States, not to weaken their defense measures until an honorable settlement is reached.

"But he has closed no door upon sincere efforts to reach a true world peace by good faith and good will. We give him our resolute and wholehearted support."

No Slackening In Defense

On Capitol Hill, Secretary of State Dulles emphasized the administration's determination not to slacken the defense buildup unless the Kremlin shows definite and speedy signs of easing world tensions.

Referring to Eisenhower's speech yesterday before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Dulles told newsmen:

"It is obvious that unless there is a very prompt response from the Soviet Union in a great many respects, it will be quite apparent it is necessary to move ahead on all fronts, East and West, to develop a strong position."

Seven American Civilians To Be Freed By Reds

WASHINGTON, April 17 (INS)—Russia informed the U. S. today that seven American civilians held by the North Korean Communists since the war began will be repatriated but said Catholic Bishop Patrick J. Byrne and two other men are dead.

The Soviet Foreign Office added that nothing is known of three other U. S. citizens who were trapped in Red North Korea at the outbreak of hostilities.

The Americans to be repatriated do not include International News Service War Correspondent Don Dixon, NBC Correspondent Richard Applegate and Merchant Marine Skipper Ben Krasner, who were captured by Chinese Communists near Hong Kong March 22. Their fate remains a mystery.

The seven Americans to be returned from North Korea as a result of the Russian intervention offered by the Soviets in line with the Kremlin's current "peace offensive" are:

The Rev. William Robert Booth, Maryknoll priest, New York City; Louis Leo Dans, Chicago, former State Department billeting officer; Nellie Arkansas Dyer, Methodist missionary, Van Buren, Ark.

Anders Kristian Jensen, Danish-born Methodist missionary; Mary Helen Rosser, Methodist missionary, Macon, Ga.; Bertha Atkinson, Methodist missionary, Marshall, Mo., and Lawrence A. Zellers, engineer, Weatherford, Tex.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower has accepted an invitation to attend the annual dinner of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington April 29.

Tax Slash Hinges On Spending Cut, Treasury Warns

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Top men in the Treasury warned the public today not to expect all the tax cuts scheduled for the next 12 months unless government spending is cut to the bone.

They brought the bad news to the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, where Cabinet members, senators and high military officers have been reporting on the state of the nation.

Between July 1 and next April, Congress has provided for a series of tax reductions which the Treasury estimates will cost the federal government eight billion dollars in revenue.

"You cannot expect all these reductions to come on as scheduled unless there is a very sharp reduction in spending," Treasury Under Secretary Marion B. Folsom said.

He reported the federal deficit will be "somewhat larger" than the $5,900,000,000 estimated by former President Truman for the fiscal year ending June 30. The reason is that tax collections are smaller, Folsom said.

Businessmen have been looking forward to the end of the excess profits tax on June 30. Folsom and his boss, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, both told the editors the administration has not yet taken a position on whether the tax should be permitted to expire.

Another piece of tax relief due at the end of December is a 10 per cent reduction in the personal income tax rate. There is a drive on in the house to make this reduction effective July 1, but administration leaders oppose it.

'Sex Slave' Sentenced To Electric Chair

CINCINNATI, O., April 17 (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Charles E. Weber today sentenced Mrs. Betty Butler, 24-year-old Cincinnati Negro, to die in the electric chair on Aug. 5, 1953.

Mrs. Butler was convicted by a jury March 11 of first-degree murder, without a recommendation of mercy, in the slaying of Mrs. Evelyn Clark, 32, on Sept. 6, 1952. During her trial, she claimed she was a sex slave and killed the victim by drowning her in Sharon Woods Lake to escape her perverted intention.

"Temporary Partner" Ad Ban Demanded

BONN, Germany, April 17 (AP)—The youth section of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party appealed today for a ban on public advertisements in which men or women ask for "temporary partners."

The youth union asked the public prosecutors to outlaw notices in newspapers and magazines as "damaging to public morals."

The personal advertisement columns of West German newspapers are frequently sprinkled with notices by persons seeking companions of the opposite sex for week end or longer holiday trips.

Chile Denies Visas To Five Russians

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 17 (AP)—Chile refused today to grant visas for five Soviet Union representatives who want to come here for a Communist-inspired Continental Cultural Congress.

Interior Minister Osvaldo Koch said no Russians would be granted visas to visit Chile as long as Moscow refuses to permit Chilean diplomat David Cruz Campo Jr., to leave Russia with his Russian-born wife. Cruz Campo was unable to get a visa for his wife after Chile broke diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union in 1947.

Chaplin Gives Up U. S. Residence

LONDON, April 17 (INS)—Movie Comedian Charles Chaplin charged tonight that he had been forced to give up U. S. residence because he was being "persecuted" by powerful "reactionary" groups.

The famed comic, who has been accused of Communist sympathies and barred from re-entering the U. S. until an investigation has been made, made it clear he will never return to the U. S.

He declared:

"It is not easy to uproot myself and my family from the country where I lived for 40 years, without a feeling of sadness.

"But, since the end of the last war, I have been the object of lies and vicious propaganda by powerful reactionary groups who by their influence and by the aid of America's yellow press have created an unhealthy atmosphere in which liberal-minded individuals can be singled out and persecuted."

New Dormitories At U. Of Md. Approved

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 17 (AP)—The University of Maryland Board of Regents today approved erection of three new dormitories, two for men and one for girls to house some 1,150 students.

The three buildings, to be financed through a self-liquidating 30-day loan, would cost a total of $2,142,450.

The board agreed to a maximum of 3½ per cent finance cost, but put off until the next meeting, June 5, a decision as to whether to accomplish the financing through private firms or government agencies.

"Great Chicago Experiment" Ends

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Rep. O'Hara (D-Ill) proudly announced today that employes of the Chicago Postoffice no longer have to keep a record of how much time they spend daily in the wash room.

The decision to abandon the restroom checkoff tried experimentally in Chicago was a victory for O'Hara, who had campaigned against it since it went into operation.

"The great Chicago experiment has come to an end," he said in a statement for the Congressional Record.

The winners were selected April 16 on the basis of their issues of March 3 submitted to the Philadelphia firm.

The New York Times, which has won the cup six times in the past, was awarded first honorable mention in the circulation class of 50,000 or more.

Gambler Fined $1,000 For Lack Of Tax Stamp

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—Two Baltimore gamblers pleaded guilty today to charges of failing to buy $50 federal occupational tax stamps required of those who take bets.

They were the first prosecutions of their kind in the state.

James Carter, a Negro, was fined $1,000.

Judge W. Calvin Chesnut did not impose sentence immediately upon Albert S. Herford, 55, pending a report on his background by probation investigators.

Carter related he had served a six-month sentence and paid a $1,000 fine after being convicted in the city's criminal court for taking numbers bets. The punishment led him to get out of the racket he said, and he didn't think he needed one of the occupational stamps if he was out of the business.

"The lesson must be allowed to sink in," declared Judge Chesnut as he refused to let Carter pay the $1,000 fine in installments.

Herford told the judge he also gave up gambling after he was sentenced to a 90-day jail term and fined $500 in the city court for bookmaking.

Double Yolk Eggs Prove To Be Omen

PITTSBURG, Kan., April 17 (AP)—Several weeks ago chickens at the Howard Windsor farm, near Pittsburg, began laying double yolk eggs. Windsor jokingly told his wife, who was expecting, that it might be an omen.

On April 1, a cow on the couple's farm gave birth to twin calves.

Marines To Be 4,000 Yards From Atomic Blast Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 17 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission indicated that the sixth atomic detonation of the spring series will be staged before dawn tomorrow at the Yucca Flat Proving Ground.

At a press conference, which invariably precedes a test, officers said 2,200 Marines will participate in the exercise, crouching in six-foot trenches about 4,000 yards from ground zero.

Brig. Gen. Wilburt S. Brown, Camp Pendleton, Calif., commanding officer of the participating Leathernecks from Pendleton and Camp Lejeune, N. C., told newsmen that in addition a group of volunteers from the armed forces will be in trenches nearer the detonation point.

He declined to say how many would be stationed at the forward point or how close to the point of blast the trenches would be located. The general added that no one more than 45 years old would be at the advance position. He wouldn't say why.

During the second shot earlier this year nine volunteers were stationed 2,500 yards from ground zero.

Gen. Brown said that after the shock waves, some of the troops will move forward on foot to inspect blast effects on Marine materiel placed on the desert floor nearer ground zero. The intensity of radioactivity will determine the extent of the advance.

Another phase of the maneuver involves advancing 200 combat-equipped Marines in 40 Sikorski transport helicopters. Their movement also will be governed by radioactivity density.

The campaign continues through April.

Tax Slash Hinges On Spending Cut, Treasury Warns

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Top men in the Treasury warned the public today not to expect all the tax cuts scheduled for the next 12 months unless government spending is cut to the bone.

They brought the bad news to the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, where Cabinet members, senators and high military officers have been reporting on the state of the nation.

Between July 1 and next April, Congress has provided for a series of tax reductions which the Treasury estimates will cost the federal government eight billion dollars in revenue.

"You cannot expect all these reductions to come on as scheduled unless there is a very sharp reduction in spending," Treasury Under Secretary Marion B. Folsom said.

He reported the federal deficit will be "somewhat larger" than the $5,900,000,000 estimated by former President Truman for the fiscal year ending June 30. The reason is that tax collections are smaller, Folsom said.

Businessmen have been looking forward to the end of the excess profits tax on June 30. Folsom and his boss, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, both told the editors the administration has not yet taken a position on whether the tax should be permitted to expire.

Another piece of tax relief due at the end of December is a 10 per cent reduction in the personal income tax rate. There is a drive on in the house to make this reduction effective July 1, but administration leaders oppose it.

'Sex Slave' Sentenced To Electric Chair

CINCINNATI, O., April 17 (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Charles E. Weber today sentenced Mrs. Betty Butler, 24-year-old Cincinnati Negro, to die in the electric chair on Aug. 5, 1953.

Mrs. Butler was convicted by a jury March 11 of first-degree murder, without a recommendation of mercy, in the slaying of Mrs. Evelyn Clark, 32, on Sept. 6, 1952. During her trial, she claimed she was a sex slave and killed the victim by drowning her in Sharon Woods Lake to escape her perverted intention.

"Temporary Partner" Ad Ban Demanded

BONN, Germany, April 17 (AP)—The youth section of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party appealed today for a ban on public advertisements in which men or women ask for "temporary partners."

The youth union asked the public prosecutors to outlaw notices in newspapers and magazines as "damaging to public morals."

The personal advertisement columns of West German newspapers are frequently sprinkled with notices by persons seeking companions of the opposite sex for week end or longer holiday trips.

Chile Denies Visas To Five Russians

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 17 (AP)—Chile refused today to grant visas for five Soviet Union representatives who want to come here for a Communist-inspired Continental Cultural Congress.

Interior Minister Osvaldo Koch said no Russians would be granted visas to visit Chile as long as Moscow refuses to permit Chilean diplomat David Cruz Campo Jr., to leave Russia with his Russian-born wife. Cruz Campo was unable to get a visa for his wife after Chile broke diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union in 1947.

Chaplin Gives Up U. S. Residence

LONDON, April 17 (INS)—Movie Comedian Charles Chaplin charged tonight that he had been forced to give up U. S. residence because he was being "persecuted" by powerful "reactionary" groups.

The famed comic, who has been accused of Communist sympathies and barred from re-entering the U. S. until an investigation has been made, made it clear he will never return to the U. S.

He declared:

"It is not easy to uproot myself and my family from the country where I lived for 40 years, without a feeling of sadness.

"But, since the end of the last war, I have been the object of lies and vicious propaganda by powerful reactionary groups who by their influence and by the aid of America's yellow press have created an unhealthy atmosphere in which liberal-minded individuals can be singled out and persecuted."

New Dormitories At U. Of Md. Approved

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 17 (AP)—The University of Maryland Board of Regents today approved erection of three new dormitories, two for men and one for girls to house some 1,150 students.

The three buildings, to be financed through a self-liquidating 30-day loan, would cost a total of $2,142,450.

The board agreed to a maximum of 3½ per cent finance cost, but put off until the next meeting, June 5, a decision as to whether to accomplish the financing through private firms or government agencies.

"Great Chicago Experiment" Ends

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Rep. O'Hara (D-Ill) proudly announced today that employes of the Chicago Postoffice no longer have to keep a record of how much time they spend daily in the wash room.

The decision to abandon the restroom checkoff tried experimentally in Chicago was a victory for O'Hara, who had campaigned against it since it went into operation.

"The great Chicago experiment has come to an end," he said in a statement for the Congressional Record.

Typography Award To Washington Star

PHILADELPHIA, April 17 (AP)—The Washington Star today was awarded the F. Wayland Ayer Cup for excellence in typography, make-up and printing—topping 733 English language daily newspapers in an annual competition conducted by the advertising firm of N. W. Ayer and Sons, Inc.

The winners were selected April 16 on the basis of their issues of March 3 submitted to the Philadelphia firm.

The New York Times, which has won the cup six times in the past, was awarded first honorable mention in the circulation class of 50,000 or more.

The word "ceiling" as used by aviators refers to the highest altitude which a certain plane can reach and the height of the lowest cloud layer on an overcast day.

The publication times of the Sunday editions will remain unchanged and on Sunday the first Monday morning edition will be published at 7 p. m.

Gambler Fined $1,000 For Lack Of Tax Stamp

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—Two Baltimore gamblers pleaded guilty today to charges of failing to buy $50 federal occupational tax stamps required of those who take bets.

They were the first prosecutions of their kind in the state.

James Carter, a Negro, was fined $1,000.

Judge W. Calvin Chesnut did not impose sentence immediately upon Albert S. Herford, 55, pending a report on his background by probation investigators.

Carter related he had served a six-month sentence and paid a $1,000 fine after being convicted in the city's criminal court for taking numbers bets. The punishment led him to get out of the racket he said, and he didn't think he needed one of the occupational stamps if he was out of the business.

"The lesson must be allowed to sink in," declared Judge Chesnut as he refused to let Carter pay the $1,000 fine in installments.

Herford told the judge he also gave up gambling after he was sentenced to a 90-day jail term and fined $500 in the city court for bookmaking.

Double Yolk Eggs Prove To Be Omen

PITTSBURG, Kan., April 17 (AP)—Several weeks ago chickens at the Howard Windsor farm, near Pittsburg, began laying double yolk eggs. Windsor jokingly told his wife, who was expecting, that it might be an omen.

On April 1, a cow on the couple's farm gave birth to twin calves.

Marines To Be 4,000 Yards From Atomic Blast Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 17 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission indicated that the sixth atomic detonation of the spring series will be staged before dawn tomorrow at the Yucca Flat Proving Ground.

At a press conference, which invariably precedes a test, officers said 2,200 Marines will participate in the exercise, crouching in six-foot trenches about 4,000 yards from ground zero.

Brig. Gen. Wilburt S. Brown, Camp Pendleton, Calif., commanding officer of the participating Leathernecks from Pendleton and Camp Lejeune, N. C., told newsmen that in addition a group of volunteers from the armed forces will be in trenches nearer the detonation point.

He declined to say how many would be stationed at the forward point or how close to the point of blast the trenches would be located. The general added that no one more than 45 years old would be at the advance position. He wouldn't say why.

During the second shot earlier this year nine volunteers were stationed 2,500 yards from ground zero.

Gen. Brown said that after the shock waves, some of the troops will move forward on foot to inspect blast effects on Marine materiel placed on the desert floor nearer ground zero. The intensity of radioactivity will determine the extent of the advance.

Another phase of the maneuver involves advancing 200 combat-equipped Marines in 40 Sikorski transport helicopters. Their movement also will be governed by radioactivity density.

Cancer Fund Growing

BALTIMORE, April 17 (AP)—The Maryland Cancer Society reported today its campaign workers have raised 39 per cent of the $310,000 they are seeking in their annual drive for funds.

The campaign continues through April.

He was pronounced dead at 9:05 p.m.

Houck Receives $100 Bond For Handicap Essay

An Allegany High School senior who thinks in adult terms was presented a $100 U. S. Savings Bond award from the Governor's Committee to Promote Employment of the Physically Handicapped Thursday at a luncheon at the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore.

Douglas Houck, an Allegany High School student who lives in Mt. Savage, won the award for his essay, "The Physically Handicapped—A National Asset," which was selected as tops in the state.

Houck is one of the outstanding writers and speakers to come out of the Campobello school, according to his teacher-sponsor, Miss Virginia W. Dixon.

Since his essay hit the top, Houck has captured another first in a speaking contest at Allegany. He received a gold pin as the award.

He entered the "I Speak for Democracy" contests last year and in 1951. He was runner-up in a Baltimore-sponsored history contest in which he competed at Poly Tech School in Baltimore.

Also two years ago he won a United Nations Club trip to New York City and he has also had a leading part in forum programs.

He has contributed articles to the Allegany High publication "We Write" every year he has attended the Campobello school.

His schooling started at LaVale and is being completed at Allegany. Douglas and his mother, Mrs. Coyla B. Houck, a registered nurse, moved to Mt. Savage only recently.

Douglas, who has always been on the school honor rolls, likes English and history. His hobbies are chess and music. He plays a trumpet in the school band. He likes swimming, also.

Douglas is enrolled at Hampden-Sydney College at Hampden-Sydney, Va., for the fall term. He hopes to start building towards his ambition to become a lawyer.

Labor Seeks PSC Election

Delegates to the Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference Thursday passed two resolutions at a meeting in Allegany Trades Council Hall.

Following a lengthy discussion of natural gas rates in this state the group went on record as favoring passage of legislation which would make membership on the Public Service Commission result from election. The members are appointed by the governor at present.

The labor delegates said they felt that putting membership on the commission in the elective process would make the agency more responsive to the wishes of the electorate, according to Paul Burley, secretary.

A resolution was also passed in which Gov. McKeldin is asked to call for a special session of the General Assembly to provide for rent control in Maryland.

Burley said the group is of the opinion that if something is not done on rent controls then landlords will raise rentals at the first opportunity.

"Once the rents are raised, then it will be almost impossible to have them lowered," Burley pointed out.

Cotton In Tariffs

Shrinkage in exports of cotton from the United States during the 1952-53 crop year will seriously affect whatever new farm programs are worked out by this Congress. Cotton exports this year are expected to come to about 3.5 million bales, as against 5.5 million bales in the preceding year, according to Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Benson has announced Agriculture Department support of a bill now before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. Introduced by Senator Maybank (D., S.C.), the measure would make available insurance on stocks of American cotton and other farm products held abroad. Benson said the department had dropped the idea of subsidizing cotton for export.

In the face of falling exports and weak cotton prices, the nation's cotton farmers now seem likely to plant about one million more acres than they did last year, according to C. C. Smith, vice president of a Memphis bank which handles a very large percentage of the country's cotton crop. This increase in acreage is despite a request from Secretary Benson for a voluntary reduction of 18 per cent in cotton acreage.

The result could be, according to the Memphis banker, a crop of from 15 million to 15¾ million bales, "greatly in excess of prospective consumption and exports." That would mean, in turn, price supports for cotton this year of from ¾ of a cent to 2½ cents a pound above 1952 levels—or the highest on record. The government now holds $32 million worth of cotton, has extended loans on $250 million more. Benson would then have to impose acreage controls for 1954.

At the same time, agricultural imports are posing problems for the administration and for Congress. Section 104 of the Defense Production Act expires on June 30. That section, the so-called "cheese" amendment, gives the Secretary of Agriculture discretionary power to impose complete embargoes on competitive dairy and certain other farm products.

Benson told the Senate Agriculture Committee on April 9 that Section 104 should be allowed to expire. To take up the gap in protection, the secretary asked for substantial changes in Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1939 in order to tighten the President's import control authority.

President Eisenhower has asked the Tariff Commission to submit to him by June 1 recommendations on import controls on farm products. Meantime, on April 7, he had asked for a one-year extension, without change, of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, now scheduled to expire on June 12. But much support is being shown in Congress for moves to restrict the present power of the President to make new reciprocal trade agreements.

Southern Democrats, traditionally in favor of a low tariff, will be influenced by a slump, not as yet entirely ended, in the price of cotton. On March 31, cotton was selling at 33 cents a pound, as against 30 cents a pound on January 15, but about 37 cents a pound a year ago.

Atomic Power

Studies were begun last year by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of Congress of plans for private industrial development of atomic power. This would require, first of all, a relaxation of the restrictions which give AEC a monopoly on the possession of uranium.

These studies progressed to the point where, in December, it was possible for the congressional committee to outline eight approaches which it had examined in preparation for hearings to be held this year. Now AEC has completed its part in the survey and, with the approval of President Eisenhower and the National Security Council, will soon submit a policy statement to Congress.

Details have been withheld, but presumably AEC will suggest how obstacles which long have made Congress hesitant to loosen atomic controls can be surmounted.

Security is the most obvious, but not the only important, problem. While it is desirable to harness the atom for the production of power, it will be an expensive business and atomic generating plants could not compete on an economic basis with coal, oil or water, except in areas where these sources are not readily available.

A subsidy in some form, perhaps in the purchase by the government of the plutonium which is a by-product of nuclear fission, will undoubtedly be needed. Patents, operating safety and the degree of government supervision necessary to protect the national interest are other questions to which Congress will expect answers from AEC.

However, none of these presents insuperable difficulties. Industry's willingness to co-operate with the government in atomic development has already been demonstrated. AEC's chairman in December predicted atomic power for industry in from five to 10 years. It is not probable that it may come sooner.

Knowing Canada

Realization of the economic and strategic importance of Canada is of slow growth, although the development of the air age, with its transport routes, is accelerating popular knowledge of our great northern neighbor.

It is natural, if unintelligent, to take Canada for granted. With minor exceptions, Americans and Canadians understand each other. The United States feels that it can count upon Canada as an independent member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, close to us in both interest and tradition.

But it remains a fact that Canada needs to be better known on this side of the border. To assist in spreading such knowledge, special attention has been devoted to Canada in an economic mobilization course given in New York to 400 military and civilian leaders.

Stressed were the facts that in 1952 American capital invested $1,000,000,000 in Canada, bringing our total investment there to $8,000,000,000. Canada's area is vast. Its uranium deposits are an important source of atomic material. New discoveries of oil and natural gas, plus construction of pipe lines, will assist in making Canada more self-sufficient.

Canada has two transcontinental railroad lines, as well as two arterial roads, but adequate access to the interior is still wanting. The Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River give Canada superb water communications.

On all accounts, therefore, Canada is a valuable neighbor. It is our good fortune to be so close to a land so rich in natural resources, whose people only differ from us to the degree that we are so much alike.

Enjoy Your Meals

The expression, eating for health, reminds me of the story told about the Kellogg company of Battle Creek, Mich. For years this firm had been selling prepared cereals for the treatment of constipation and kindred ailments when it was suggested that because the products were so tasty and contained many nutritive elements, they might provide an excellent breakfast for every one. The company agreed and started an extensive advertising program directed mainly toward children. The plan worked and the business grew by leaps and bounds. Nowadays, most of us buy prepared cereals because we like them as food and not because the help us to stay "regular."

There is no objection to eating for health but most of us get more enjoyment out of life if we think of the pleasure associated with meals. Once the nutritional requirements are supplied by a balanced diet, we may enjoy the tidbits we love. In this way we can adhere to the straight and narrow and at the same time add spice and zest to our menus. Let's not overdo health consciousness lest we look too much to the future while the present escapes us.

It is the food faddist who always eats for health rather than enjoyment. Such men and women usually are lean and almost too serious for their own good. Each bite brings to their mind vitamins and minerals and where these elements will go and what they will do. Food is their medicine and eating is a chore. This argument is ideal for those who are ill and in need of a special diet but it never has impressed me as necessary for those in good health.

Anyone who has read this column knows I am opposed to overweight. It might be argued that obese individuals are shining examples of food lovers; this is not necessary true, because there is a difference between enjoying and craving food. The corpulent stuff themselves because they are unhappy, want to be loved, or have other emotional conflicts. They are unlike the gourmet who is choosy and prefers quality to quantity. These persons are difficult to please yet rarely piggish when the right dish comes along, fearing that too much of a good thing will destroy the savor.

Statistics show that a high percentage of our population is overweight. Furthermore, many of our great people fall into this category. They appear to be happy and to enjoy life to the fullest, including the culinary side. On the other hand, many dyspeptics are lean; they may live longer but it is questionable whether they enjoy it. Some of these men and women eat for health and not for pleasure.

DAMAGED FOOT MUSCLES

C. F. writes: What is meant by footdrop?

REPLY

In this condition, the muscles that lift up the foot and toes are paralyzed. The foot hangs or drops down and in walking, the leg must be raised well off the ground and flapped ahead to take a step. Paralysis results from injury, infection, or a toxic state of the nerve leading to this group of muscles.

CROUP AND ALLERGY

Mrs. F. writes: Is croup in a child ever caused by allergy?

REPLY

This is possible but in most instances there is no evidence of allergy. Certain children are susceptible to croup, which suggests a family predisposition.

CARRIES WARNING

J. B. writes: In your recent answer on what to do in the line of first aid when a person has a heart attack, you mentioned among other things giving the victim a sip of whisky or brandy. I would suggest, however, that before such first aid is given, the victim's pockets be examined to find out whether he carries a card stating that he is taking antabuse. I carry such a card but shudder at the thought of the result if someone gave me a drink. Don't you think you should warn your readers along this line?

REPLY

Yes, this is a good idea for all alcoholics taking antabuse treatments.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ike's Brother-in-Law Has Hectic Business Career; Ex-War Crimes Prosecutor Welcomed By Japanese; Istanbul Mayor Discovers Unique Cure For Drunks

WASHINGTON—No one in Washington has had more ups and downs during the last 14 months than President Eisenhower's brother-in-law, Lt. Col. Gordon Moore, U. S. Army, retired.

His ups and downs are unique even in Washington's unstable society. But as of today his "ups" far exceed his "downs," and as brother-in-law Ike climbed to the peaks, Colonel Moore was mounting the hills.

Here, in brief, is the colonel's success story.

In February of 1952, Colonel Moore and his attractive wife, Mike—Mamie's sister were hard put to meet their monthly bills. They'd recently bought a rather impressive home and the going was tough. They were even considering selling their new home for some ready cash.

At this crucial moment, however, O. Roy Chalk, head of the newly organized independent Military Air Transport Association, offered Colonel Moore a $6,500-per-year job. He accepted at once.

Chalk assigned the colonel to handle the association's relations with the Pentagon, also public relations of the Association's 17 member airlines.

Chalk's selection of Colonel Moore was not exactly an accident. He had been thoroughly briefed on Moore's relationship to Ike and had handpicked the colonel over the association's other candidate, Maj. Gen. Henry B. Sayler, U.S.A., Ret.

At this point General Eisenhower was still in Paris and even such supporters as Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge were on tenterhooks as to whether he would return in time to give battle to Senator Taft for the Republican nomination.

Then suddenly without warning, on April 23, 1952 — two months after he was hired—Colonel Moore was fired.

He received the unexpected notice from Ben B. Edwards, managing director of the Military Air Transport Association, informing him that he and the other employes in the public relations office were fired with two weeks pay.

Within a couple of days, however, Colonel Moore was rehired at the insistence of the association's "Ike Will Win" faction led by Roy Chalk.

A few weeks passed, Taft's strength seemed to be growing. To many association members, Taft was certain to get the nomination.

Again, with equal abruptness, Colonel Moore was fired.

By now the Republican convention was only a few days away and the astute Roy Chalk retained Colonel Moore for another job. He became Washington representative of Chalk's own airline — Trans-Caribbean.

Millionaire Chalk had not, however, put all his eggs in one political basket. Only a few months previous he had also induced the independent Military Air Transport Association to buy a thousand-dollar table at the Democrats' Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Full of hope, Chalk and Colonel Moore went to Chicago for the Republican convention.

Ike won. And Chalk, who had bet on the right horse, was only too happy to pick up the hotel bill for the brother-in-law of the winner.

Following the convention, Chalk returned to New York and his representative, Colonel Moore, resumed work in Washington.

A week later, however, Roy Chalk flew to Washington and made Colonel Moore vice president of the Trans-Caribbean Airlines.

In less than six months, Colonel Moore had been hired three times, fired twice and wound up as a vice president.

Today Colonel Moore is doing quite well. He's no longer associated with Roy Chalk. But he's still in the airlines business—lending money, as a broker, to the nonscheduled airlines.

And just recently, Pan American Airways, the biggest in the business and the most expert at lobbying, was making attractive overtures in his direction.

War Crimes Prosecutor

It isn't often that a man who sends other people to jail is welcomed later by those he jailed. However, such a tribute has just been paid to Joseph B. Keenan, former No. 2 man in the Justice Department and former U. S. war crimes prosecutor in Japan.

Keenan spent many months in Tokyo after the end of the war, sent some of its top leaders to jail for atrocities in the Philippines and for the attack on Pearl Harbor. But the other day he went back, was cordially received by the emperor, treated generously in the Japanese press, and called on one of the war criminals he had convicted.

He was Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japan's foreign minister all during the war, and sentenced to seven years in jail by Keenan's court.

Shigemitsu, whom I knew in Peking when he was a second secretary of the Japanese embassy and I was a young newspaperman, always seemed to me pro-American. Keenan confirmed this impression, said he didn't want to prosecute him, but the Russians and other members of the court insisted on it—and we were trying to get along with the Russians in those days.

Whether Shigemitsu is pro-American or not happens to be of great importance these days, for he may be the next premier of Japan—if Premier Yoshida fails of re-election this month.

Significantly, Shigemitsu received Keenan without bitterness, said he felt Japan's only course was with the United States.

La Guardia Of Turkey

Bouncing Mayor Fahrettin Kerin Gokay of Istanbul bounced into Washington the other day, then bounced on to Chicago and the West Coast to attend various medical conventions.

Mayor Gokay, sometimes called the La Guardia of Turkey, has the same dynamic energy as the late mayor of New York and the same reputation for honestly. But Mayor Gokay goes La Guardia one better. He is a doctor, is in the United States to meet various psychiatric experts.

Furthermore, Mayor Gokay, a teetotaler himself—most Mohammedans are—doesn't believe in letting drunks litter up the streets of Istanbul. So when a man is arrested for drunkenness, he is given an injection which makes the patient deathly ill if he ever drinks again.

As a result the mayor is one of the most feared men in Turkey—by some people.

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — So-called "special interest" groups are besieging the House Ways and Means Committee with demands for repeal of this or that excise tax. So far, the movie theater owners are the only group to make any headway. The committee will open hearings soon on a bill which would repeal the 20 per cent excise levy on movie admissions.

Meanwhile, other industries whose product is luxury-taxed are complaining bitterly that they've gotten nowhere. These include owners of baseball clubs, fountain pen manufacturers, liquor firms, fur coat makers, and many others. They want to know why theater operators have received what appears to be preferential treatment.

However, the bill to repeal movie admission excises is far from passage. For one thing, the administration opposes it, feeling that excises are a vital source of revenue which must be continued.

Should the movie bill come out of committee, chances are that Congress will almost be forced to appease hot-under-the-collar groups by giving them similar relief.

Wing-Clipping

A GOP Congress is trying to strip a Republican President of some of his powers. Political observers are puzzled by this development, which threatens to bring President Eisenhower into conflict with GOP-controlled bodies on Capitol Hill.

In three important instances, Republicans have tried to clip the President's authority. In one, the reorganization of executive agencies, the administration won out. The other two are still pending.

They involve attempts by GOP legislators to curb the President's treaty-making powers and his authority to pass upon tariff revisions.

In both instances, administration officials are making a determined effort on behalf of the President to block the proposals.

The most serious challenge to the President's authority is posed in a resolution sponsored by 64 senators for a constitutional amendment restricting the chief executive in his authority to make treaties.

Sponsors include Senate GOP leader Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, but Taft says he does not know for sure that action will come at this session of Congress.

Defense Strategy

The Democrats, judging from publicity coming from the national committee, are staying on the defensive and letting Republicans call the plays.

The GOP National Committee, at its recent meeting in Washington, announced that the first 75 days of the Eisenhower administration constituted a period of "memorable and significant results."

The Republicans cited creation of the new Department of Health, Education and Welfare with cabinet rank, budget cuts worked out by executive departments, and the administration's stiffened foreign policy — among numerous other things.

In answer, the Democrats dredged up a quotation from—of all people GOP Senate Leader Robert A. Taft, who said recently: "Some progress has been made, but it seems slow and will seem to be slower in the future."

The Democrats added that nearly all the criticism of President Eisenhower has come from Republicans and that his main support has come from their own ranks.

On the basis of the claims and the reply, Mr. Eisenhower would appear to be almost politically impregnable as of this springtime, 1953.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Mysterious Peace

Unless the fighting in Korea is a war, it cannot end in a peace. That is undoubtedly the difficulty that the various statesmen face. Also, if the two principals in all this are not the United States and Soviet Russia, who are they? If North Korea is one of the principals, why is not South Korea the other?

Like so much else that has been happening in our world since 1938, nothing ever comes out mathematically. For instance, the European war started in 1939, because Germany, assisted by Russia, violated the territorial sovereignty of Poland, and a few treaties as well. When the war was ostensibly over, Soviet Russia owned Poland, which had practically ceased to be a sovereign country. At Potsdam, it was agreed that a number of countries that had been "liberated" from the Germans were to establish governments of their own choice by "democratic means." This has not happened.

Instead, these countries were conquered, as though by war, by Russia. Yet, the Russians are members of the United Nations as a "peace-loving country," while Spain and Ireland, which conquered no peoples, are excluded from the United Nations. Nationalist China, the recognized government of that country since 1927, fought Japan since 1931, our ally since 1941, has been driven off the Asiatic continent through the errors of judgment and methods of General George Marshall and has been forced to take refuge on the island of Formosa; yet Marshall is extolled and honored by being appointed to represent our nation at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. But General MacArthur, who heroically fought in the field in Asia, lives in retirement, selling electric razors and typewriters.

This topsy-turvyism finds Georgi Malenkov proposing a peace, designed not to establish universal peace, or even the co-existence about which the Russians speak so freely, as though it were a respite for us from death, but rather to separate us from our allies and to isolate the United States from all the countries we have been aiding to the amount of about $100,000,000,000 of the earnings of the American people. And some of our allies would prefer to be separated because they want trade, not aid, and believe that the trade of Russia and China is worth more than the friendship of the United States, which twice went to their rescue with blood and treasure.

S. Bernard, a member of the Institut Emile Vandervelde of Brussels, Belgium, a Socialist, writing in "World Politics," makes this notable point:

"Having created the United Nations in the image of their moral and legalistic conception of international society, the Western powers proceeded to make particularly dangerous use of it; they protested systematically — and for reasons of pure principle — against the integration of the Eastern European countries into the Soviet bloc. This extension of the Soviet zone of influence was, after all, the logical consequence of Russia's victory over Germany. By agreeing to this development in advance at Yalta, the Western powers accepted an historical calamity. Once Germany had been defeated and disarmed, Russia became naturally the leading power in that part of Europe. It would have required a war to prevent the USSR from reaping this gain, as it would now require a war to expel her from Eastern Europe."

While this is a correct view, it is notable that Bernard speaks of "Russia's victory over Germany." This is a characteristic European point of view, as though the United States were never in the European war at all. They do not even recall that the Americans could have taken Berlin and Prague but waited for the slower Russians to come up and to claim victory. They do not even note that the Americans could have held the whole of Berlin but that stupidity dictated a policy of letting the Russians take that pivotal city, giving us a zone with neither an entrance nor an exit.

And so, naturally, it is a Russian victory, for what else can it be? And if we are not careful, it will be a Russian victory in Korea and his Marxian excellency, Chou En-lai, will sit in the United Nations on the East River in New York, joining Vishinsky in Stalinist obscenities against the United States.

It could happen in the extraordinary confusions characteristic of the Acheson school of diplomacy, which still hangs over the State Department despite a Republican victory.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, in a historic speech heard 'round the globe, brought back to the world of today the principles of the Atlantic Charter of yesterday —the pact signed in January 1942 by Soviet Russia and 46 other governments of the world pledging to all peoples the right to choose their own form of government.

This charter was the basis of the war aims of World War II. It was directed at the totalitarian regime of Hitler, but it applied as well to dictatorships of the future.

Mr. Eisenhower's phrasing was this:

"Every nation's right to a form of government and an economic system of its own choosing is inalienable.

"Any nation's attempt to dictate to other nations their form of government is indefensible."

Lays Out Issue

The Atlantic Charter was worded this way:

"First, their countries (the signers) seek no aggrandizement, territorial or other;

"Second, they desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned;

"Third, they respect the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live; and they wish to see sovereign rights and self-government restored to those who have been forcibly deprived of them."

The President has marked out the issue for the leaders of the Soviet Union to see clearly. He reminds them pointedly of the facts of life in Eastern Europe, where small nations have been deprived of the right of self-government. He calls for "a free and united Germany with a government based upon a free and secret ballot."

As for Asia, Mr. Eisenhower dispelled all doubts about future American foreign policy by calling for "the holding of free elections in a united Korea." There ends any talk of a "divided Korea."

The basic principle throughout the speech is self-government. While the President didn't say anything specifically about the government of Russia or the right of the people of Russia to choose their own form of government by a free and secret ballot, the inference is there—that peace will not come to the world until the Russian people themselves are free to choose their own form of government. Whether it be socialistic or capitalistic or whether it be a monarchy or a republic is up to the Russian people—so long as they do the choosing without intimidation or coercion.

Mr. Eisenhower did become rather pointed when he referred to nations like Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania, as he issued a challenge to the Soviet Union.

"Is it prepared," the President asked, "to allow other nations, including those of Eastern Europe, the free choice of their own forms of government and the right to associate freely with other nations in a world-wide community of law? . . .

"If not—where then is the concrete evidence of the Soviet Union's concern for peace? The test is clear."

Spoke America's Feelings

The Eisenhower address, delivered before cheering members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors at their annual convention here, was followed by virtually unanimous expressions of approval not only from the editors but from members of both parties in Congress. For the President had spoken the heart and mind of America irrespective of political faction.

In the 12 weeks since taking the oath of office, Mr. Eisenhower has formulated a foreign policy that now proclaims the basis of world peace. But whether American ideals will be realized depends on whether evil men will change their designs and transform themselves into virtuous partners in the world of tomorrow.

Skepticism is mixed with fear because there is nothing in the situation now except "mere rhetoric," as the President called it, and the time for proof with deeds that are truly meaningful is at hand.

Meanwhile, it may be expected that the plain-spoken advice of the President will be concurred in by our allies. If the Soviet leaders spurn the hand of peace as offered by America, speaking for the free world, the pressure inside the iron curtain to realize the Eisenhower terms will intensify as the crusade for self-liberation begins among the oppressed peoples of Europe and Asia.

Cotton In Tariffs

Shrinkage in exports of cotton from the United States during the 1952-53 crop year will seriously affect whatever new farm programs are worked out by this Congress. Cotton exports this year are expected to come to about 3.5 million bales, as against 5.5 million bales in the preceding year, according to Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Benson has announced Agriculture Department support of a bill now before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. Introduced by Senator Maybank (D., S.C.), the measure would make available insurance on stocks of American cotton and other farm products held abroad. Benson said the department had dropped the idea of subsidizing cotton for export.

In the face of falling exports and weak cotton prices, the nation's cotton farmers now seem likely to plant about one million more acres than they did last year, according to C. C. Smith, vice president of a Memphis bank which handles a very large percentage of the country's cotton crop. This increase in acreage is despite a request from Secretary Benson for a voluntary reduction of 18 per cent in cotton acreage.

The result could be, according to the Memphis banker, a crop of from 15 million to 15¾ million bales, "greatly in excess of prospective consumption and exports." That would mean, in turn, price supports for cotton this year of from ¾ of a cent to 2½ cents a pound above 1952 levels—or the highest on record. The government now holds $32 million worth of cotton, has extended loans on $250 million more. Benson would then have to impose acreage controls for 1954.

At the same time, agricultural imports are posing problems for the administration and for Congress. Section 104 of the Defense Production Act expires on June 30. That section, the so-called "cheese" amendment, gives the Secretary of Agriculture discretionary power to impose complete embargoes on competitive dairy and certain other farm products.

Benson told the Senate Agriculture Committee on April 9 that Section 104 should be allowed to expire. To take up the gap in protection, the secretary asked for substantial changes in Section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1939 in order to tighten the President's import control authority.

President Eisenhower has asked the Tariff Commission to submit to him by June 1 recommendations on import controls on farm products. Meantime, on April 7, he had asked for a one-year extension, without change, of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, now scheduled to expire on June 12. But much support is being shown in Congress for moves to restrict the present power of the President to make new reciprocal trade agreements.

Southern Democrats, traditionally in favor of a low tariff, will be influenced by a slump, not as yet entirely ended, in the price of cotton. On March 31, cotton was selling at 33 cents a pound, as against 30 cents a pound on January 15, but about 37 cents a pound a year ago.

Atomic Power

Studies were begun last year by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Joint Atomic Energy Committee of Congress of plans for private industrial development of atomic power. This would require, first of all, a relaxation of the restrictions which give AEC a monopoly on the possession of uranium.

These studies progressed to the point where, in December, it was possible for the congressional committee to outline eight approaches which it had examined in preparation for hearings to be held this year. Now AEC has completed its part in the survey and, with the approval of President Eisenhower and the National Security Council, will soon submit a policy statement to Congress.

Details have been withheld, but presumably AEC will suggest how obstacles which long have made Congress hesitant to loosen atomic controls can be surmounted.

Security is the most obvious, but not the only important, problem. While it is desirable to harness the atom for the production of power, it will be an expensive business and atomic generating plants could not compete on an economic basis with coal, oil or water, except in areas where these sources are not readily available.

A subsidy in some form, perhaps in the purchase by the government of the plutonium which is a by-product of nuclear fission, will undoubtedly be needed. Patents, operating safety and the degree of government supervision necessary to protect the national interest are other questions to which Congress will expect answers from AEC.

However, none of these presents insuperable difficulties. Industry's willingness to co-operate with the government in atomic development has already been demonstrated. AEC's chairman in December predicted atomic power for industry in from five to 10 years. It is not probable that it may come sooner.

Knowing Canada

Realization of the economic and strategic importance of Canada is of slow growth, although the development of the air age, with its transport routes, is accelerating popular knowledge of our great northern neighbor.

It is natural, if unintelligent, to take Canada for granted. With minor exceptions, Americans and Canadians understand each other. The United States feels that it can count upon Canada as an independent member of the British Commonwealth of Nations, close to us in both interest and tradition.

But it remains a fact that Canada needs to be better known on this side of the border. To assist in spreading such knowledge, special attention has been devoted to Canada in an economic mobilization course given in New York to 400 military and civilian leaders.

Stressed were the facts that in 1952 American capital invested $1,000,000,000 in Canada, bringing our total investment there to $8,000,000,000. Canada's area is vast. Its uranium deposits are an important source of atomic material. New discoveries of oil and natural gas, plus construction of pipe lines, will assist in making Canada more self-sufficient.

Canada has two transcontinental railroad lines, as well as two arterial roads, but adequate access to the interior is still wanting. The Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River give Canada superb water communications.

On all accounts, therefore, Canada is a valuable neighbor. It is our good fortune to be so close to a land so rich in natural resources, whose people only differ from us to the degree that we are so much alike.

Enjoy Your Meals

The expression, eating for health, reminds me of the story told about the Kellogg company of Battle Creek, Mich. For years this firm had been selling prepared cereals for the treatment of constipation and kindred ailments when it was suggested that because the products were so tasty and contained many nutritive elements, they might provide an excellent breakfast for every one. The company agreed and started an extensive advertising program directed mainly toward children. The plan worked and the business grew by leaps and bounds. Nowadays, most of us buy prepared cereals because we like them as food and not because the help us to stay "regular."

There is no objection to eating for health but most of us get more enjoyment out of life if we think of the pleasure associated with meals. Once the nutritional requirements are supplied by a balanced diet, we may enjoy the tidbits we love. In this way we can adhere to the straight and narrow and at the same time add spice and zest to our menus. Let's not overdo health consciousness lest we look too much to the future while the present escapes us.

It is the food faddist who always eats for health rather than enjoyment. Such men and women usually are lean and almost too serious for their own good. Each bite brings to their mind vitamins and minerals and where these elements will go and what they will do. Food is their medicine and eating is a chore. This argument is ideal for those who are ill and in need of a special diet but it never has impressed me as necessary for those in good health.

Anyone who has read this column knows I am opposed to overweight. It might be argued that obese individuals are shining examples of food lovers; this is not necessary true, because there is a difference between enjoying and craving food. The corpulent stuff themselves because they are unhappy, want to be loved, or have other emotional conflicts. They are unlike the gourmet who is choosy and prefers quality to quantity. These persons are difficult to please yet rarely piggish when the right dish comes along, fearing that too much of a good thing will destroy the savor.

Statistics show that a high percentage of our population is overweight. Furthermore, many of our great people fall into this category. They appear to be happy and to enjoy life to the fullest, including the culinary side. On the other hand, many dyspeptics are lean; they may live longer but it is questionable whether they enjoy it. Some of these men and women eat for health and not for pleasure.

DAMAGED FOOT MUSCLES

C. F. writes: Wh t is meant by footdrop?

REPLY

In this condition, the muscles that lift up the foot and toes are paralyzed. The foot hangs or drops down and in walking, the leg must be raised well off the ground and flapped ahead to take a step. Paralysis results from injury, infection, or a toxic state of the nerve leading to this group of muscles.

CROUP AND ALLERGY

Mrs. F. writes: Is croup in a child ever caused by allergy?

This is possible but in most instances there is no evidence of allergy. Certain children are susceptible to croup, which suggests a family predisposition.

I carry such a card but shudder at the thought of the result if someone gave me a drink. Don't you think you should warn your readers along this line?

REPLY

Yes, this is a good idea for all alcoholics taking antabuse treatments.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ike's Brother-in-Law Has Hectic Business Career; Ex-War Crimes Prosecutor Welcomed By Japanese; Istanbul Mayor Discovers Unique Cure For Drunks

WASHINGTON—No one in Washington has had more ups and downs during the last 14 months than President Eisenhower's brother-in-law, Lt. Col. Gordon Moore, U. S. Army, retired.

His ups and downs are unique even in Washington's unstable society. But as of today his "ups" far exceed his "downs," and as brother-in-law Ike climbed to the peaks, Colonel Moore was mounting the hills.

Here, in brief, is the colonel's success story.

In February of 1952, Colonel Moore and his attractive wife, Mike—Mamie's sister were hard put to meet their monthly bills. They'd recently bought a rather impressive home and the going was tough. They were even considering selling their new home for some ready cash.

At this crucial moment, however, O. Roy Chalk, head of the newly organized independent Military Air Transport Association, offered Colonel Moore a $6,500-per-year job. He accepted at once.

Chalk assigned the colonel to handle the association's relations with the Pentagon, also public relations of the Association's 17 member airlines.

Chalk's selection of Colonel Moore was not exactly an accident. He had been thoroughly briefed on Moore's relationship to Ike and had handpicked the colonel over the association's other candidate, Maj. Gen. Henry B. Sayler, U.S.A., Ret.

At this point General Eisenhower was still in Paris and even such supporters as Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge were on tenterhooks as to whether he would return in time to give battle to Senator Taft for the Republican nomination.

Then suddenly without warning, on April 23, 1952 — two months after he was hired—Colonel Moore was fired.

He received the unexpected notice from Ben B. Edwards, managing director of the Military Air Transport Association, informing him that he and the other employes in the public relations office were fired with two weeks pay.

Within a couple of days, however, Colonel Moore was rehired at the insistence of the association's "Ike Will Win" faction led by Roy Chalk.

A few weeks passed, Taft's strength seemed to be growing. To many association members, Taft was certain to get the nomination.

Again, with equal abruptness, Colonel Moore was fired.

By now the Republican convention was only a few days away and the astute Roy Chalk retained Colonel Moore for another job. He became Washington representative of Chalk's own airline — Trans-Caribbean.

Millionaire Chalk had not, however, put all his eggs in one political basket. Only a few months previous he had also induced the independent Military Air Transport Association to buy a thousand-dollar table at the Democrats' Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

Full of hope, Chalk and Colonel Moore went to Chicago for the Republican convention.

Ike won. And Chalk, who had bet on the right horse, was only too happy to pick up the hotel bill for the brother-in-law of the winner.

Following the convention, Chalk returned to New York and his representative, Colonel Moore, resumed work in Washington.

A week later, however, Roy Chalk flew to Washington and made Colonel Moore vice president of the Trans-Caribbean Airlines.

In less than six months, Colonel Moore had been hired three times, fired twice and wound up as a vice president.

Today Colonel Moore is doing quite well. He's no longer associated with Roy Chalk. But he's still in the airlines business—lending money, as a broker, to the nonscheduled airlines.

And just recently, Pan American Airways, the biggest in the business and the most expert at lobbying, was making attractive overtures in his direction.

War Crimes Prosecutor

It isn't often that a man who sends other people to jail is welcomed later by those he jailed. However, such a tribute has just been paid to Joseph B. Keenan, former No. 2 man in the Justice Department and former U. S. war crimes prosecutor in Japan.

Keenan spent many months in Tokyo after the end of the war, sent some of its top leaders to jail for atrocities in the Philippines and for the attack on Pearl Harbor. But the other day he went back, was cordially received by the emperor, treated generously in the Japanese press, and called on one of the war criminals he had convicted.

He was Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japan's foreign minister all during the war, and sentenced to seven years in jail by Keenan's court.

Shigemitsu, whom I knew in Peking when he was a second secretary of the Japanese embassy and I was a young newspaperman, always seemed to me pro-American. Keenan confirmed this impression, said he didn't want to prosecute him, but the Russians and other members of the court insisted on it—and we were trying to get along with the Russians in those days.

Whether Shigemitsu is pro-American or not happens to be of great importance these days, for he may be the next premier of Japan—if Premier Yoshida fails of re-election this month.

Significantly, Shigemitsu received Keenan without bitterness, said he felt Japan's only course was with the United States.

La Guardia Of Turkey

Bouncing Mayor Fahrettin Kerin Gokay of Istanbul bounced into Washington the other day, then bounced on to Chicago and the West Coast to attend various medical conventions.

Mayor Gokay, sometimes called the La Guardia of Turkey, has the same dynamic energy as the late mayor of New York and the same reputation for honestly. But Mayor Gokay goes La Guardia one better. He is a doctor, is in the United States to meet various psychiatric experts.

Furthermore, Mayor Gokay, a teetotaler himself—most Mohammedans are—doesn't believe in letting drunks litter up the streets of Istanbul. So when a man is arrested for drunkenness, he is given an injection which makes the patient deathly ill if he ever drinks again.

As a result the mayor is one of the most feared men in Turkey—by some people.

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON — So-called "special interest" groups are besieging the House Ways and Means Committee with demands for repeal of this or that excise tax. So far, the movie theater owners are the only group to make any headway. The committee will open hearings soon on a bill which would repeal the 20 per cent excise levy on movie admissions.

Meanwhile, other industries whose product is luxury-taxed are complaining bitterly that they've gotten nowhere. These include owners of baseball clubs, fountain pen manufacturers, liquor firms, fur coat makers, and many others. They want to know why theater operators have received what appears to be preferential treatment.

However, the bill to repeal movie admission excises is far from passage. For one thing, the administration opposes it, feeling that excises are a vital source of revenue which must be continued.

Should the movie bill come out of committee, chances are that Congress will almost be forced to appease hot-under-the-collar groups by giving them similar relief.

Wing-Clipping

A GOP Congress is trying to strip a Republican President of some of his powers. Political observers are puzzled by this development, which threatens to bring President Eisenhower into conflict with GOP-controlled bodies on Capitol Hill.

In three important instances, Republicans have tried to clip the President's authority. In one, the reorganization of executive agencies, the administration won out. The other two are still pending. They involve attempts by GOP legislators to curb the President's treaty-making powers and his authority to pass upon tariff revisions.

In both instances, administration officials are making a determined effort on behalf of the President to block the proposals.

The most serious challenge to the President's authority is posed in a resolution sponsored by 64 senators for a constitutional amendment restricting the chief executive in his authority to make treaties.

Sponsors include Senate GOP leader Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, but Taft says he does not know for sure that action will come at this session of Congress.

Defense Strategy

The Democrats, judging from publicity coming from the national committee, are staying on the defensive and letting Republicans call the plays.

The GOP National Committee, at its recent meeting in Washington, announced that the first 75 days of the Eisenhower administration constituted a period of "memorable and significant results."

The Republicans cited creation of the new Department of Health, Education and Welfare with cabinet rank, budget cuts worked out by executive departments, and the administration's stiffened foreign policy — among numerous other things.

In answer, the Democrats dredged up a quotation from—of all people GOP Senate Leader Robert A. Taft, who said recently: "Some progress has been made, but it seems slow and will seem to be slower in the future."

The Democrats added that nearly all the criticism of President Eisenhower has come from Republicans and that his main support has come from their own ranks.

On the basis of the claims and the reply, Mr. Eisenhower would appear to be almost politically impregnable as of this springtime, 1953.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Mysterious Peace

Unless the fighting in Korea is a war, it cannot end in a peace. That is undoubtedly the difficulty that the various statesmen face. Also, if the two principals in all this are not the United States and Soviet Russia, who are they? If North Korea is one of the principals, why is not South Korea the other?

Like so much else that has been happening in our world since 1938, nothing ever comes out mathematically. For instance, the European war started in 1939, because Germany, assisted by Russia, violated the territorial sovereignty of Poland, and a few treaties as well. When the war was ostensibly over, Soviet Russia owned Poland, which had practically ceased to be a sovereign country. At Potsdam, it was agreed that a number of countries that had been "liberated" from the Germans were to establish governments of their own choice by "democratic means." This has not happened.

Instead, these countries were conquered, as though by war, by Russia. Yet, the Russians are members of the United Nations as a "peace-loving country," while Spain and Ireland, which conquered no peoples, are excluded from the United Nations. Nationalist China, the recognized government of that country since 1927, fought Japan since 1931, our ally since 1941, has been driven off the Asiatic continent through the errors of judgment and methods of General George Marshall and has been forced to take refuge on the island of Formosa; yet Marshall is extolled and honored by being appointed to represent our nation at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. But General MacArthur, who heroically fought in the field in Asia, lives in retirement, selling electric razors and typewriters.

This topsy-turvyism finds Georgi Malenkov proposing a peace, designed not to establish universal peace, or even the co-existence about which the Russians speak so freely, as though it were a respite for us from death, but rather to separate us from our allies and to isolate the United States from all the countries we have been aiding to the amount of about $100,000,000,000 of the earnings of the American people. And some of our allies would prefer to be separated because they want trade, not aid, and believe that the trade of Russia and China is worth more than the friendship of the United States, which twice went to their rescue with blood and treasure.

S. Bernard, a member of the Institut Emile Vandervelde of Brussels, Belgium, a Socialist, writing in "World Politics," makes this notable point:

"Having created the United Nations in the image of their moral and legalistic conception of international society, the Western powers proceeded to make particularly dangerous use of it; they protested systematically — and for reasons of pure principle — against the integration of the Eastern European countries into the Soviet bloc. This extension of the Soviet zone of influence was, after all, the logical consequence of Russia's victory over Germany. By agreeing to this development in advance at Yalta, the Western powers accepted an historical calamity. Once Germany had been defeated and disarmed, Russia became naturally the leading power in that part of Europe. It would have required a war to prevent the USSR from reaping this gain, as it would now require a war to expel her from Eastern Europe."

While this is a correct view, it is notable that Bernard speaks of "Russia's victory over Germany." This is a characteristic European point of view, as though the United States were never in the European war at all. They do not even recall that the Americans could have taken Berlin and Prague but waited for the slower Russians to come up and to claim victory. They do not even note that the Americans could have held the whole of Berlin but that stupidity dictated a policy of letting the Russians take that pivotal city, giving us a zone with neither an entrance nor an exit.

And so, naturally, it is a Russian victory, for what else can it be? And if we are not careful, it will be a Russian victory in Korea and his Marxian excellency, Chou En-lai, will sit in the United Nations on the East River in New York, joining Vishinsky in Stalinist obscenities against the United States.

It could happen in the extraordinary confusions characteristic of the Acheson school of diplomacy, which still hangs over the State Department despite a Republican victory.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower, in a historic speech heard 'round the globe, brought back to the world of today the principles of the Atlantic Charter of yesterday —the pact signed in January 1942 by Soviet Russia and 46 other governments of the world pledging to all peoples the right to choose their own form of government.

This charter was the basis of the war aims of World War II. It was directed at the totalitarian regime of Hitler, but it applied as well to dictatorships of the future.

Mr. Eisenhower's phrasing was this:

"Every nation's right to a form of government and an economic system of its own choosing is inalienable.

"Any nation's attempt to dictate to other nations their form of government is indefensible."

Lays Out Issue

The Atlantic Charter was worded this way:

"First, their countries (the signers) seek no aggrandizement, territorial or other;

"Second, they desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned;

"Third, they respect the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live; and they wish to see sovereign rights and self-government restored to those who have been forcibly deprived of them."

The President has marked out the issue for the leaders of the Soviet Union to see clearly. He reminds them pointedly of the facts of life in Eastern Europe, where small nations have been deprived of the right of self-government. He calls for "a free and united Germany with a government based upon a free and secret ballot."

As for Asia, Mr. Eisenhower dispelled all doubts about future American foreign policy by calling for "the holding of free elections in a united Korea." There ends any talk of a "divided Korea."

The basic principle throughout the speech is self-government. While the President didn't say anything specifically about the government of Russia or the right of the people of Russia to choose their own form of government by a free and secret ballot, the inference is there—that peace will not come to the world until the Russian people themselves are free to choose their own form of government. Whether it be socialistic or capitalistic or whether it be a monarchy or a republic is up to the Russian people—so long as they do the choosing without intimidation or coercion.

Mr. Eisenhower did become rather pointed when he referred to nations like Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria and Romania, as he issued a challenge to the Soviet Union.

"Is it prepared," the President asked, "to allow other nations, including those of Eastern Europe, the free choice of their own forms of government and the right to associate freely with other nations in a world-wide community of law? . . .

"If not—where then is the concrete evidence of the Soviet Union's concern for peace? The test is clear."

Spoke America's Feelings

The Eisenhower address, delivered before cheering members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors at their annual convention here, was followed by virtually unanimous expressions of approval not only from the editors but from members of both parties in Congress. For the President had spoken the heart and mind of America irrespective of political faction.

In the 12 weeks since taking the oath of office, Mr. Eisenhower has formulated a foreign policy that now proclaims the basis of world peace. But whether American ideals will be realized depends on whether evil men will change their designs and transform themselves into virtuous partners in the world of tomorrow.

Skepticism is mixed with fear because there is nothing in the situation now except "mere rhetoric," as the President called it, and the time for proof with deeds that are truly meaningful is at hand.

Meanwhile, it may be expected that the plain-spoken advice of the President will be concurred in by our allies. If the Soviet leaders spurn the hand of peace as offered by America, speaking for the free world, the pressure inside the iron curtain to realize the Eisenhower terms will intensify as the crusade for self-liberation begins among the oppressed peoples of Europe and Asia.

Episcopal Church Plans Coffee Hour

A coffee hour in the parish house will follow the 11 a. m. service tomorrow at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, Church rector, explained that the coffee hour is planned to give parishoners an opportunity to renew their friendship with Rev. David C. Clark, who was the rector at Emmanuel from 1935 until 1944.

Rev. Clark, now rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Vernon, Texas, will preach the sermon at the 11 o'clock service. He returned to Cumberland this week to participate in the banquet Tuesday night which marked the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Episcopal parish in Cumberland.

Baltimore Chamber Of Commerce Members To Address Local Group

Two Baltimoreans will be guests of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce at a general membership meeting on Wednesday, May 27.

The general session, the first in 1953, will take place at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, with dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Principal speaker will be William P. Rock, industry location manager of the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

He will speak on the general subject of industrial development and will explain the techniques employed by the Baltimore Association in procuring new industries.

Rock's subject is considered especially appropriate for Cumberland, in view of the effort being made here to attract new enterprise, according to Anthony Saeli, manager.

Rock, a native of Chicago, was graduated from University of Colorado in 1927 with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering.

He was a traveling secretary of a college fraternity for three years, worked with a public utility in Rockford, Ill., for a year and a half and was employed by the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago for 16 years. At the time of his leaving he was manager of Industrial Development.

During four years in the Navy in World War II he was executive officer of the Navy's torpedo plant at Forest Park, Ill.

He went with the Baltimore Association of Commerce on April 18, 1949, as manager of the new industry location program.

Also to be heard will be Duane L. Peterson, president of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, who will speak briefly.

Peterson has been active in the association since 1940. He served as vice president in 1945 and twice was elected to serve three-year terms as a director. He is serving his second term as president.

Peterson was educated at Ripon College and Northwestern University. He was connected with Butler Brothers, national distributors of general merchandise, for 28 years, serving as a director and member of the executive committee. He went to Baltimore from Chicago in 1940 to serve as general manager of Butler Brother's Baltimore division, but resigned in 1945 to become senior partner of Peterson, Howell and Heather, an automobile fleet management and leasing firm.

The firm is the only one of its kind in the country and serves clients in all of the 48 states and in Canada.

40 Per Cent

In the primary election March 28, only 842, about 40 per cent of the eligible students, cast ballots. Allegany High School had a 63 per cent turnout but the other schools fell far behind. The other schools are expected to come nearer to equaling Allegany's record today.

George R. Hughes, Jr., general chairman of the Jaycee Youth Mayor committee, stressed last night that students must designate their choices by marking an "X" in the block opposite their candidate's name.

Ballots marked with checks and outside the designated block are invalidated. Ballots in which votes are cast for more than one candidate for mayor and more than four for council also will be thrown out. Several ballots marked with checks, outside the proper blocks or in which too many candidates were voted for were rejected in the primary.

Assisting Hughes in preparation for the election have been Joseph Pellerzi, George L. Carney, Jr., and Albert D. Darby, Jr.

Episcopal Church Plans Coffee Hour

A coffee hour in the parish house will follow the 11 a. m. service tomorrow at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Rev. H. Maunsell Richardson, Church rector, explained that the coffee hour is planned to give parishoners an opportunity to renew their friendship with Rev. David C. Clark, who was the rector at Emmanuel from 1935 until 1944.

Rev. Clark, now rector of Grace Episcopal Church in Vernon, Texas, will preach the sermon at the 11 o'clock service. He returned to Cumberland this week to participate in the banquet Tuesday night which marked the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Episcopal parish in Cumberland.

Baltimore Chamber Of Commerce Members To Address Local Group

Two Baltimoreans will be guests of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce at a general membership meeting on Wednesday, May 27.

The general session, the first in 1953, will take place at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, with dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Principal speaker will be William P. Rock, industry location manager of the Baltimore Association of Commerce.

He will speak on the general subject of industrial development and will explain the techniques employed by the Baltimore Association in procuring new industries.

Rock's subject is considered especially appropriate for Cumberland, in view of the effort being made here to attract new enterprise, according to Anthony Saeli, manager.

Rock, a native of Chicago, was graduated from University of Colorado in 1927 with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering.

He was a traveling secretary of a college fraternity for three years, worked with a public utility in Rockford, Ill., for a year and a half and was employed by the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago for 16 years. At the time of his leaving he was manager of Industrial Development.

During four years in the Navy in World War II he was executive officer of the Navy's torpedo plant at Forest Park, Ill.

He went with the Baltimore Association of Commerce on April 18, 1949, as manager of the new industry location program.

Also to be heard will be Duane L. Peterson, president of the Baltimore Association of Commerce, who will speak briefly.

Peterson has been active in the association since 1940. He served as vice president in 1945 and twice was elected to serve three-year terms as a director. He is serving his second term as president.

Peterson was educated at Ripon College and Northwestern University. He was connected with Butler Brothers, national distributors of general merchandise, for 28 years, serving as a director and member of the executive committee. He went to Baltimore from Chicago in 1940 to serve as general manager of Butler Brother's Baltimore division, but resigned in 1945 to become senior partner of Peterson, Howell and Heather, an automobile fleet management and leasing firm.

The firm is the only one of its kind in the country and serves clients in all of the 48 states and in Canada.

High walls, barred windows, armed guards—is this the cure for crime?

When a disease epidemic breaks out in America, we stop at nothing to find the source of trouble. Millions are spent each year on research for infantile paralysis, tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer.

But what is our cure for crime? Our government spends millions annually for law enforcement, for the building of jails and penitentiaries, but it does little to prevent crime. Legal punishment is costly and ineffective. It is not a cure!

"Overcome evil with good." This is the only cure for the disease of crime. This is the spirit of Christ that we must nurture in the hearts of our youth. This is our hope for tomorrow—that men will learn to live by understanding and love, not by law and punishment. A better world will come only with better people.

You and your children will find the true way of life taught in the churches and church schools of America. It is the privilege and duty of all to attend church services regularly.

BARCLAY on BRIDGE

NO MAGIC IN IT AT ALL

SEEING the declarer drop your singleton king, when he was in position to try a finesse, and a goodly number of cards of the suit were out of his sight, has a tendency to make you think he was either extremely lucky or else applied some form of magic in order to hatch up that play. In many such situations, however, there is no magic at all connected with the play, or even luck. The very simplest kind of elementary card-reading may have indicated to him the most hopeful line of play, almost as clearly as if he had taken a peek into your hand.

	♠ J 10 6 4 ♥ A 3 ♦ 9 7 6 5 4 ♣ 4 3
♠ K 9 8 3 ♥ Q 10 4 ♦ 10 3 ♣ A Q 8 2	N W E S	♠ 2 ♥ K J 9 7 6 ♦ A Q J 8 2 ♣ 9 7

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♥
2 ♠	Pass	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	3 NT

West was in there thinking all the way. When he heard his partner make that heart bid at the level of two while vulnerable, he counted on East to have quite a hand. He decided to temporize and pass after South made a free raise of North's spades, despite the fact that he had thoroughly sound stoppage in both of the hostile black suits. When East, having heard nothing across the table, was then able to essay a diamond bid at the three level, West was ready for action, and preferred No Trumps for the game bid in view of the advisability of having a spade lead come up to the K instead of through it.

Expecting a black suit lead, he was startled when North opened the diamond 9. Not much time was wasted in analyzing that lead. Surely North would not have led that if he held the K, West reckoned. With it in South's hand, the only chance to shut it out would be to find it singleton and drop it with the A, all of which he did. The very much discombobulated South then was supine as West scored five tricks in diamonds, four in hearts and one each in the black suits. A finesse on the diamond lead would have caused the loss of three tricks in spades and one in hearts to beat the contract.

To soothe his sorrowful opponent, West explained his simple reasoning, to which South retorted: "Next time you try that, I hope my partner will be leading from a king."

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ None ♥ 8 7 6 5 ♦ K J 10 7 6 5 4 ♣ 6 5

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

What would be West's purposes in considering an initial bid of 1-Spade? But what might be the actual result of it?

West	North	East	South
2. 1 ♠	2 ♥	3 NT	4 ♥
4 ♠	5 ♥	5 ♠	6 ♥
6 ♠	7 ♥	Dbl.

At the two tables of a team match, the outcome of this deal was determined by what West did on his first turn. Where he passed, for lack of the standard minimum honor strength, the calling went as in the first sequence above, with the 6-Spades easily made because South was not the opening leader. North led a heart, as he couldn't lead the lethal diamond, which would have produced an immediate ruff, followed by a trick with the club A. With the heart lead, it became possible for West to get rid of a diamond, take out trumps and so lose only one trick, in clubs.

That produced 180 for tricks, 750 for the vulnerable small slam bonus and 500 duplicate bonus for a game, or a total of 1430 points. Less than half that many were lost to East-West at the other table, where the spade bid enabled North to cut in with his hearts. The 7-Hearts resulting went down only four tricks, for 700 points to the opponents, winning the board for the sacrificing team by 730 points.

Your Weekend Question

Why is that, in a big duplicate game, with all pairs using what they consider "natural" bidding, you sometimes find as many as five or more widely varying sequences of bids at as many different tables?

A DEAL IS AN ADVENTURE

PLAYING bridge is equivalent to existing in an imaginary world full of the unexpected. Indeed every deal is an adventure. Any move you make, in the early stages of the bidding, may have an entirely different effect from what you visualize. To take one example, consider your purpose if you decide to open the bidding with a hand rich in distribution but weakish in high cards. Your idea is twofold—to give yourself a chance to picture your extreme suit-lengths to your partner and to impede the action of your possibly stronger opponents. But on rare occasions, its immediate result is enabling an opponent to overcall with a suit he never would have shown if you had passed.

BARCLAY on BRIDGE

NO MAGIC IN IT AT ALL

SEEING the declarer drop your singleton king, when he was in position to try a finesse, and a goodly number of cards of the suit were out of his sight, has a tendency to make you think he was either extremely lucky or else applied some form of magic in order to hatch up that play. In many such situations, however, there is no magic at all connected with the play, or even luck. The very simplest kind of elementary card-reading may have indicated to him the most hopeful line of play, almost as clearly as if he had taken a peek into your hand.

	♠ J 10 6 4 ♥ A 3 ♦ 9 7 6 5 4 ♣ 4 3

2 ♠	Pass	Pass	3 ♦

West was in there thinking all the way. When he heard his partner make that heart bid at the level of two while vulnerable, he counted on East to have quite a hand. He decided to temporize and pass after South made a free raise of North's spades, despite the fact that he had thoroughly sound stoppage in both of the hostile black suits. When East, having heard nothing across the table, was then able to essay a diamond bid at the three level, West was ready for action, and preferred No Trumps for the game bid in view of the advisability of having a spade lead come up to the K instead of through it.

Expecting a black suit lead, he was startled when North opened the diamond 9. Not much time was wasted in analyzing that lead. Surely North would not have led that if he held the K, West reckoned. With it in South's hand, the only chance to shut it out would be to find it singleton and drop it with the A, all of which he did. The very much discombobulated South then was supine as West scored five tricks in diamonds, four in hearts and one each in the black suits. A finesse on the diamond lead would have caused the loss of three tricks in spades and one in hearts to beat the contract.

To soothe his sorrowful opponent, West explained his simple reasoning, to which South retorted: "Next time you try that, I hope my partner will be leading from a king."

A DEAL IS AN ADVENTURE

PLAYING bridge is equivalent to existing in an imaginary world full of the unexpected. Indeed every deal is an adventure. Any move you make, in the early stages of the bidding, may have an entirely different effect from what you visualize. To take one example, consider your purpose if you decide to open the bidding with a hand rich in distribution but weakish in high cards. Your idea is twofold—to give yourself a chance to picture your extreme suit-lengths to your partner and to impede the action of your possibly stronger opponents. But on rare occasions, its immediate result is enabling an opponent to overcall with a suit he never would have shown if you had passed.

	♠ 9 8 6 2 ♥ Q J 10 9 3 2 ♦ None ♣ A 10 2
♠ A Q J 10 7 3 ♥ 4 ♦ 3 2 ♣ K J 8 4	N W E S	♠ K 5 4 ♥ A K ♦ A Q 9 8 ♣ Q 9 7 3

	♠ None ♥ 8 7 6 5 ♦ K J 10 7 6 5 4 ♣ 6 5

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

What would be West's purposes in considering an initial bid of 1-Spade? But what might be the actual result of it?

West	North	East	South
2. 1 ♠	2 ♥	3 NT	4 ♥
4 ♠	5 ♥	5 ♠	6 ♥
6 ♠	7 ♥	Dbl.

At the two tables of a team match, the outcome of this deal was determined by what West did on his first turn. Where he passed, for lack of the standard minimum honor strength, the calling went as in the first sequence above, with the 6-Spades easily made because South was not the opening leader. North led a heart, as he couldn't lead the lethal diamond, which would have produced an immediate ruff, followed by a trick with the club A. With the heart lead, it became possible for West to get rid of a diamond, take out trumps and so lose only one trick, in clubs.

That produced 180 for tricks, 750 for the vulnerable small slam bonus and 500 duplicate bonus for a game, or a total of 1430 points. Less than half that many were lost to East-West at the other table, where the spade bid enabled North to cut in with his hearts. The 7-Hearts resulting went down only four tricks, for 700 points to the opponents, winning the board for the sacrificing team by 730 points.

Your Weekend Question

Why is that, in a big duplicate game, with all pairs using what they consider "natural" bidding, you sometimes find as many as five or more widely varying sequences of bids at as many different tables?

Coach John Thomas' Mt. Savage High School tossers made their debut in the Bi-State Conference a glorious one yesterday when they upset Beall High School's defending champions yesterday at Frostburg in an extra inning game by the score of 7-6.

The setback cracked Beall's winning streak of 14 games, including 13 wins last season after the Mountaineers had dropped their initial game of the 1952 campaign to Allegany.

Mt. Savage scored the winning run in the 8th inning when Relief pitcher Tommy Richards lost control and walked Kenny with the bases full. Jesse Jenkins got a hit to open the inning when his high fly fell safely in front of the plate. Ronnie Morgan sacrificed. "Chink" Walsh was safe on Earl Clark's low throw to first base and when Williams bobbled Don Robeson's grounder the bases were loaded. Then Richards walked in the deciding tally.

Only 10 hits were credited to the teams—six by Beall and four for Mt. Savage. Blank, Mt. Savage pitcher, struck out nine batsmen.

Haywood Wins For Bruce

Paul Haywood pitched a four-hitter and threw the third strike past 10 batsmen as Coach Augie Eichhorn's Bruce High nine registered its second straight win in the Bi-State Conference at the expense of Flintstone High School at Westernport. The score was 4-1.

Bruce put the game on ice in the first inning by scoring three runs which were charged to Puffenburger. Lough, Flintstone relief pitcher, yielded only two hits and one run in six innings and fanned eight.

Hyndman Beats Central

Hyndman High School crashed the win column by taking Central High School into camp at Barton, 9 to 6.

Bruce May got credit for the win although relieved by Lefty Lou Hite in the late innings. Spiker collected three of Central's nine safeties while G. Stair and Keiler shared four of the Pennsylvanians' eight blows.

The LaSalle-Fort Hill game scheduled at Fort Hill Field was postponed on account of the high winds.

Hoyt Wilhelm Helps Maglie Tame Dodgers

18,307 See Giants Top Brooklyn, 6-3

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — Sal Maglie weakened after pitching 6 2-3 no-hit innings against Brooklyn today, requiring help from reliefer Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth to save a 6-3 victory for the New York Giants in their home opener before 18,307 fans. The clubs were to meet again tonight in the second half of a day-night doubleheader.

The 35-year-old curveball expert, a six-time winner over the Dodgers last season, lost his no-hit bid when Jackie Robinson's high fly fell safely at the feet of Monte Irvin in short left with two out in the seventh. An error and Roy Campanella's triple cost Maglie his chances of a shutout.

When the Dodgers rallied with four singles and two runs off Maglie in the ninth, Manager Leo Durocher called on Wilhelm to get the last two outs. He did it without further damage, forcing George Shuba to foul out with the bases loaded, ending the game.

Browns Top Chisox

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns chased 36-year-old Joe Dobson in a five-run seventh to whip the Chicago White Sox 6-4 today before 972 hardy fans who watched in gloomy 36-degree weather.

The big Brownie inning broke a 1-1 tie which St. Louis had shared on Vic Wertz' first homer of the season in the fifth.

Winning pitcher was lefty Dick Littlefield, who started but like Dobson failed to last the seventh inning. Ancient Satchel Paige took over and finished somewhat shakily for the Browns. Box:

As You Were

(This is the 124th in a series of sketches with pictures of well known sport personalities of the past from the album of the Cumberland News Sports Editor. See if you can identify them by their photo.)

Wonder how many baseball fans of the tri-state area remember this tall, right-handed speedball artist who made his debut in pro ball with the Cumberland Colts in 1924, pitched in six different leagues and finally called it quits in the early 1930s because of an arm injury?

This native West Virginian pitched in the American Association, the International, Sally, Three-Eye, Middle Atlantic and Blue Ridge leagues.

After attending Potomac State School he joined the Cumberland Colts, local independent club, in 1924 when Jack Smith was pitching here and "Rags" Rangnow was the receiver. Other members of that team included "Shine" Cortazzo, Johnny Byrnes, "Dinty" Moore, Harry McEnroe, Tommy Ray, Larry Fisher and Eddie Conley.

He was with Hagerstown in 1925 when the Hubs won the Blue Ridge pennant and the five-state title. That season Hagerstown loaned him to the Colts of the Mid-Atlantic League for eight days during which he pitched three games, losing 4-2, winning 2-1 and then hooking up with Charley "Chuck" Trader, Fairmont southpaw, in a 14-inning scoreless tie. Then he returned to Hagerstown and had the honor of twirling the Hubs into first place in a 3-2 eleven inning battle with Chambersburg.

Joined Baltimore Orioles in spring of 1926 and trained in Florida when Boley, Earnshaw, Bishop, Porter, Ogden, Lake, Freitag, Maisel and Sheedy were with the club. Was farmed to Knoxville and won 15 and lost 14 with next to last place club in Sally League.

Went south with Orioles in 1927 when Everett Scott took Boley's place, Bill Urbanski replaced Bishop and Rube Marquard was the coach. After several relief jobs with Orioles he was farmed to Knoxville where Bob Coleman was manager. His win clinched third place for Knoxville in last game of season.

In 1928 was purchased by Dallas of Texas League but Steers sold him to Mike Kelly's Minneapolis Millers of the A. A. where Rube Benton, Zack Wheat, Earl Smith were among his teammates. Won three and lost none and was farmed to Peoria of Three-Eye-League where Ernie Krueger was manager. Had one of best seasons there with earned run average of 1.58 and a 15-9 record. Started 25 games, completed 24, and made Peoria Honor Roll.

Trained with Minneapolis at Shreveport in 1929 and was sold to Indianapolis where he won only starting assignments. Used in relief roles and was there until last six weeks of season when Hoosiers sent him, Reb Russell, Ken Koenecke, Ruel Love and "Baby Doll" Jacobson to their farm at Quincy (Ill.) to see if they could help win pennant—which they did on last day of season. Won 11, lost 2 for Quincy, including one victory he scored by pitching just one ball.

Quincy played Canton for Class "B" title and lost, four games to three. In this series his arm went lame. After doctors tried for two years to restore his salary whip he essayed a comeback but the old zip was gone and he retired as an active player.

Returned to home town in 1934. Entered used car business, worked as chief to Ration Board during Second World War and from there went into insurance business.

Won a county election after recount. To do it he had to overcome a Democratic majority of 1,300. In recent years has handled two pennant winning baseball teams?

Now, can you guess this fellow's name?

He's Leo Skidmore, sheriff of Pendleton county, W. Va., and head of the Skidmore Insurance Agency at Franklin where he was born May 4, 1901. Was elected in 1952. Managed Franklin in Allegheny Baseball League in 1950, 1951 and 1952 and had two flag winners. Will manage Franklin in new South Branch Valley League this year. Mrs. Skidmore was Clarice E. Lantz of Blue Grass, Va. The Skidmores have two children, a boy 16 and a girl 13. The photo of Leo was taken about 25 years ago.

Ford Takes Lead In Virginia Open

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 17 (AP)—Dark-haired Doug Ford, fourth leading money winner in professional golf this year, fashioned a four-under-par 65 here today to move into the halfway-mark lead in the $12,500 Virginia Beach Open golf tournament.

Ford's 65 today and his first-round 63 of yesterday gave him a 36-hole total of 128, ten under par for the 6-065-yard Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course.

The 30-year-old pro from Harrison, N. Y., held a three-stroke advantage over durable Dick Metz, who yesterday established a new course record with a sizzling, eight-under-par 61.

Charley Bishop, Rookie Twirler, Blanks Red Sox

Tosses Five-Hitter In A's 5-0 Victory

PHILADELPHIA, April 17 (AP)—Rookie Charley Bishop, a surprise starter, turned back the Boston Red Sox with a five hit shutout and drove home a pair of runs as the Philadelphia Athletics won a 5-0 victory today in a game that featured the major league season's first fist fight.

Bishop struck out five and exhibited excellent control by not walking a batter as he justified skipper Jimmy Dykes' faith in him as a starting pitcher.

Principals in the punchfest were catcher Sammy White of Boston and outfielder Allie Clark from Philadelphia. It was a short and brief battle in which Clark landed a good right hand to White's jaw.

Tempers flared when White blocked Clark on the latter's attempt to tally from second in Philadelphia's half of the eighth inning. Box:

Tom Sharkey, Ring Terror Of '90s, Dies

Sailor Tom Passes Away In Sleep At 79

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17 (AP)—Tom Sharkey, the short, big chested Irishman who came out of the U. S. Navy to become a ring terror in the 1890s, died here today. He was 79.

Sailor Tom, who fought the first four heavyweight champions under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, passed away in his sleep at San Francisco City and County Hospital. He had been admitted Jan. 31, suffering from a heart ailment.

As great a fighter as Ireland ever turned out, Sharkey met all comers during an eleven year period that spanned the gay nineties and the early 1900s. He was born in Dundalk, one of a large family.

Friends here know of no surviving close relatives. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Never Won Title

Sharkey never wore the toga of a champion but his name belongs with the immortals of the ring. He boxed John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett, Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons and James, J. Jeffries, all great holders of the title.

Jeffries, his keenest ring rival and close friend, died in Los Angeles, March 3. In 1926, the two had toured the country giving boxing exhibitions on the vaudeville circuit.

Sharkey shipped out of Ireland as an 11-year-old cabin boy on a four-masted schooner. The five foot 8½ inch 180-pounder started his pugilistic career in 1893 while in the Navy at Honolulu. He ran up a string of fourteen knockouts. Purses were donated by shipmates.

After leaving the service in 1894, he started a ring career that netted him an estimated $250,000. He opened a showplace saloon in New York during his heydey but it, like his money, eventually found new owners.

Entered Hospital Broke

When Sharkey entered the hospital broke last August, his friends went into action. Fight promoters, newsmen and others sent in contributions. A special committee headed by influential San Franciscans administered the funds.

The old gamester recovered sufficiently to gain his release but was back a few weeks later. He faded gradually and for more than a month had been in a coma.

Shepherd College Beats Frostburg

Shepherd College's Rams defeated Frostburg State Teachers College baseball team yesterday at Shepherdstown, W. Va., by the score of 11-1.

The Teachers took a 1-0 lead in the first inning but Shepherd rallied for all of its runs in fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth innings.

Riordan, Shepherd pitcher, limited the Bobcats to seven hits and stuck out 11. Lowe, Shepherd centerfielder, smacked a triple and two-bagger.

Frostburg Teachers play hosts to Ashland College today at 2 p. m. at Community Park, Frostburg. Box:

Coach John Thomas' Mt. Savage High School tossers made their debut in the Bi-State Conference a glorious one yesterday when they upset Beall High School's defending champions yesterday at Frostburg in an extra inning game by the score of 7-6.

The setback cracked Beall's winning streak of 14 games, including 13 wins last season after the Mountaineers had dropped their initial game of the 1952 campaign to Allegany.

Mt. Savage scored the winning run in the 8th inning when Relief pitcher Tommy Richards lost control and walked Kenny with the bases full. Jesse Jenkins got a hit to open the inning when his high fly fell safely in front of the plate. Ronnie Morgan sacrificed. "Chink" Walsh was safe on Earl Clark's low throw to first base and when Williams bobbled Don Robeson's grounder the bases were loaded. Then Richards walked in the deciding tally.

Only 10 hits were credited to the teams—six by Beall and four for Mt. Savage. Blank, Mt. Savage pitcher, struck out nine batsmen.

Haywood Wins For Bruce

Paul Haywood pitched a four-hitter and threw the third strike past 10 batsmen as Coach Augie Eichhorn's Bruce High nine registered its second straight win in the Bi-State Conference at the expense of Flintstone High School at Westernport. The score was 4-1.

Bruce put the game on ice in the first inning by scoring three runs which were charged to Puffenburger. Lough, Flintstone relief pitcher, yielded only two hits and one run in six innings and fanned eight.

Hyndman Beats Central

Hyndman High School crashed the win column by taking Central High School into camp at Barton, 9 to 6.

Bruce May got credit for the win although relieved by Lefty Lou Hite in the late innings. Spiker collected three of Central's nine safeties while G. Stair and Keiler shared four of the Pennsylvanians' eight blows.

The LaSalle-Fort Hill game scheduled at Fort Hill Field was postponed on account of the high winds.

Hoyt Wilhelm Helps Maglie Tame Dodgers

18,307 See Giants Top Brooklyn, 6-3

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — Sal Maglie weakened after pitching 6 2-3 no-hit innings against Brooklyn today, requiring help from reliefer Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth to save a 6-3 victory for the New York Giants in their home opener before 18,307 fans. The clubs were to meet again tonight in the second half of a day-night doubleheader.

The 35-year-old curveball expert, a six-time winner over the Dodgers last season, lost his no-hit bid when Jackie Robinson's high fly fell safely at the feet of Monte Irvin in short left with two out in the seventh. An error and Roy Campanella's triple cost Maglie his chances of a shutout.

When the Dodgers rallied with four singles and two runs off Maglie in the ninth, Manager Leo Durocher called on Wilhelm to get the last two outs. He did it without further damage, forcing George Shuba to foul out with the bases loaded, ending the game.

Browns Top Chisox

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns chased 36-year-old Joe Dobson in a five-run seventh to whip the Chicago White Sox 6-4 today before 972 hardy fans who watched in gloomy 36-degree weather.

The big Brownie inning broke a 1-1 tie which St. Louis had shared on Vic Wertz' first homer of the season in the fifth.

Winning pitcher was lefty Dick Littlefield, who started but like Dobson, failed to last the seventh inning. Ancient Satchel Paige took over and finished somewhat shakily for the Browns. Box:

As You Were

Wonder how many baseball fans of the tri-state area remember this tall, right-handed speedball artist

who made his debut in pro ball with the Cumberland Colts in 1924, pitched in six different leagues and finally called it quits in the early 1930s because of an arm injury?

This native West Virginian pitched in the American Association, the International, Sally, Three-Eye, Middle Atlantic and Blue Ridge leagues.

After attending Potomac State School he joined the Cumberland Colts, local independent club, in 1924 when Jack Smith was pitching here and "Rags" Rangnow was the receiver. Other members of that team included "Shine" Cortazzo, Johnny Byrnes, "Dinty" Moore, Harry McEnroe, Tommy Ray, Larry Fisher and Eddie Conley.

He was with Hagerstown in 1925 when the Hubs won the Blue Ridge pennant and the five-state title. That season Hagerstown loaned him to the Colts of the Mid-Atlantic League for eight days during which he pitched three games, losing 4-2, winning 2-1 and then hooking up with Charley "Chuck" Trader, Fairmont southpaw, in a 14-inning scoreless tie. Then he returned to Hagerstown and had the honor of twirling the Hubs into first place in a 3-2 eleven inning battle with Chambersburg.

Joined Baltimore Orioles in spring of 1926 and trained in Florida when Boley, Earnshaw, Bishop, Porter, Ogden, Lake, Freitag, Maisel and Sheedy were with the club. Was farmed to Knoxville and won 15 and lost 14 with next to last place club in Sally League.

Went south with Orioles in 1927 when Everett Scott took Boley's place, Bill Urbanski replaced Bishop and Rube Marquard was the coach. After several relief jobs with Orioles he was farmed to Knoxville where Bob Coleman was manager. His win clinched third place for Knoxville in last game of season.

In 1928 was purchased by Dallas of Texas League but Steers sold him to Mike Kelly's Minneapolis Millers of the A. A. where Rube Benton, Zack Wheat, Earl Smith were among his teammates. Won three and lost none and was farmed to Peoria of Three-Eye-League where Ernie Krueger was manager. Had one of best seasons there with earned run average of 1.58 and a 15-9 record. Started 25 games, completed 24, and made Peoria Honor Roll.

Trained with Minneapolis at Shreveport in 1929 and was sold to Indianapolis where he won only starting assignments. Used in relief roles and was there until last six weeks of season when Hoosiers sent him, Reb Russell, Ken Koenecke, Ruel Love and "Baby Doll" Jacobson to their farm at Quincy (Ill.) to see if they could help win pennant—which they did on last day of season. Won 11, lost 2 for Quincy, including one victory he scored by pitching just one ball.

Quincy played Canton for Class "B" title and lost, four games to three. In this series his arm went lame. After doctors tried for two years to restore his salary whip he essayed a comeback but the old zip was gone and he retired as an active player.

Returned to home town in 1934. Entered used car business, worked as chief to Ration Board during Second World War and from there went into insurance business.

Won a county election after recount. To do it he had to overcome a Democratic majority of 1,300. In recent years has handled two pennant winning baseball teams?

Now, can you guess this fellow's name?

He's Leo Skidmore, sheriff of Pendleton county, W. Va., and head of the Skidmore Insurance Agency at Franklin where he was born May 4, 1901. Was elected in 1952. Managed Franklin in Allegheny Baseball League in 1950, 1951 and 1952 and had two flag winners. Branch Valley League this year. Will manage Franklin in new South Mores have two children, a boy 16 and a girl 13. The photo of Leo was taken about 25 years ago.

Ford Takes Lead In Virginia Open

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 17 (AP)—Dark-haired Doug Ford, fourth leading money winner in professional golf this year, fashioned a four-under-par 65 here today to move into the halfway-mark lead in the $12,500 Virginia Beach Open golf tournament.

Ford's 65 today and his first-round 63 of yesterday gave him a 36-hole total of 128, ten under par for the 6-065-yard Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course.

The 30-year-old pro from Harrison, N. Y., held a three-stroke advantage over durable Dick Metz, who yesterday established a new course record with a sizzling, eight-under-par 61.

Charley Bishop, Rookie Twirler, Blanks Red Sox

Tosses Five-Hitter In A's 5-0 Victory

PHILADELPHIA, April 17 (AP)—Rookie Charley Bishop, a surprise starter, turned back the Boston Red Sox with a five hit shutout and drove home a pair of runs as the Philadelphia Athletics won a 5-0 victory today in a game that featured the major league season's first fist fight.

Bishop struck out five and exhibited excellent control by not walking a batter as he justified skipper Jimmy Dykes' faith in him as a starting pitcher.

Principals in the punchfest were catcher Sammy White of Boston and outfielder Allie Clark from Philadelphia. It was a short and brief battle in which Clark landed a good right hand to White's jaw.

Tempers flared when White blocked Clark on the latter's attempt to tally from second in Philadelphia's half of the eighth inning. Box:

Tom Sharkey, Ring Terror Of '90s, Dies

Sailor Tom Passes Away In Sleep At 79

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17 (AP)—Tom Sharkey, the short, big chested Irishman who came out of the U. S. Navy to become a ring terror in the 1890s, died here today. He was 79.

Sailor Tom, who fought the first four heavyweight champions under the Marquis of Queensbury rules, passed away in his sleep at San Francisco City and County Hospital. He had been admitted Jan. 31, suffering from a heart ailment.

As great a fighter as Ireland ever turned out, Sharkey met all comers during an eleven year period that spanned the gay nineties and the early 1900s. He was born in Dundalk, one of a large family.

Friends here know of no surviving close relatives. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Never Won Title

Sharkey never wore the toga of a champion but his name belongs with the immortals of the ring. He boxed John L. Sullivan, James J. Corbett, Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons and James, J. Jeffries, all great holders of the title.

Jeffries, his keenest ring rival and close friend, died in Los Angeles, March 3. In 1926, the two had toured the country giving boxing exhibitions on the vaudeville circuit.

Sharkey shipped out of Ireland as an 11-year-old cabin boy on a four-masted schooner. The five foot 8½ inch 180-pounder started his pugilistic career in 1893 while in the Navy at Honolulu. He ran up a string of fourteen knockouts. Purses were donated by shipmates.

After leaving the service in 1894, he started a ring career that netted him an estimated $250,000. He opened a showplace saloon in New York during his heydey but it, like his money, eventually found new owners.

Entered Hospital Broke

When Sharkey entered the hospital broke last August, his friends went into action. Fight promoters, newsmen and others sent in contributions. A special committee headed by influential San Franciscans administered the funds.

The old gamester recovered sufficiently to gain his release but was back a few weeks later. He faded gradually and for more than a month had been in a coma.

CABLE TV NEWS

It costs as much as fifty times more to build and operate a TV station as compared to a radio station, therefore it certainly will be a long time before a city like Cumberland can afford more than one TV station. Trade magazines are indicating that many applicants for single TV assigned cities are planning on giving up their application for direct broadcasting and depend on cable TV. Their reasons are that they feel that the people will be better satisfied over a long period of time to receive several stations by cable TV, rather than have their people get stuck with ever getting more than one station good.

Here's an exercise to help you stand correctly, gracefully and effortlessly! Try it out today.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The pilfering of your looks and health by poor posture is done so little at a time that you are not apt to notice your loss until it is really great.

Walking and standing improperly throws the body out of correct alignment, forcing every part to overwork in performing its function. This taxes your energy to such an extent that none is left for the pep that contributes so much to charm.

Penalties Of Poor Posture

Any position that cramps the lungs cuts their supply of oxygen and affects your vitality, complexion, digestion and brain, to a state of depression. Even though you escape becoming actually ill through poor posture, you are sure to feel continually tired, listless and run-down.

And just look at this list of beauty ills that poor posture can cause! Bulging hips, barrel waist, fatty back, muscle-bound calves, stick-out hipbones, winged shoulder blades, scooped thighs and flat chest. How much posture errs determines the beauty loss that will befall you.

If you are not sure of how you "stand," send for our booklet, "Your Posture," which shows you both how to analyze and how to remedy your faults. The box below gives mailing instructions.

Good Remedy

You can get to work immediately on any posture deficiency with this exercise: With a long, flexible leather strap or belt at hand, kneel on the floor, resting your hips on your heels and keeping them there throughout. Kowtow forward so that your spine is curled and your head rests on the floor. Grasp the strap in both hands, hold it in front of your head and slide your hands outward until your arms are as far apart as possible. Now, as you pull back and out on the strap, uncurl your spine gradually until your back is erect and arched. Hold for a count of five and repeat slowly five times. Increase to twenty-five daily.

It's a honey of an exercise for strengthening and training every muscle required to stand correctly, gracefully and effortlessly — all prime requisites of a charmer!

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree — to make yours the posture ideal — to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet! "YOUR POSTURE". For a copy write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 in coin to help cover cost.

Local Man Fined $500 In Tax Case

A Cumberland man was fined $500 in Federal Court yesterday in Baltimore on a charge of making a fraudulent income tax return in 1950.

He is Stephen J. Eckard, 51, an orderly at Memorial Hospital. Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut imposed the fine after hearing a plea for Eckard by William L. Wilson Jr., local attorney.

A plea of guilty to the charge was entered by Wilson for his client and he explained to the court the circumstances in the case.

Wilson told Judge Chesnut that Eckard had claimed as a dependent a non-existent granddaughter. When the return was later questioned Eckard paid the $300 tax due and interest and penalties for a total of $629.35. This transpired about 18 months ago.

In addition, Wilson told the court, Eckard filed an adjusted state income tax return and paid up in full. The court was informed that Eckard made an honest confession to the violation and had settled the claims in full. His client had medical expenses which he paid with part of the money saved by claiming a dependent.

The federal case was prosecuted by Herbert Hubbard, assistant U. S. district attorney.

Lloyd Mauk Receives Parole After Six Years In Prison

Lloyd Roger Mauk, 29, this city, has been paroled from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., after serving six years of a 12-year sentence for his part in "kidnapping" a Frederick taxicab driver.

Mauk and three others held in the Frederick County jail on a breaking and entering charge escaped from the lockup on January 27, 1947. They stuck up and kidnapped Mehrl L. Hobbs, the cabbie, and drove him to Gettysburg, Pa.

Mauk was detained this week in Frederick by authorities when he appeared to claim his Social Security card and other personal possessions. Sheriff R. Paul Buhrman did not know that former State's Attorney Edwin F. Nikirk of Frederick County had stetted a detainer placed against Mauk in Georgia.

When the man walked into Barracks B in Frederick to claim his personal belongings earlier this week he was held until conferences of state and county officers with State's Attorney Charles U. Price, resolved that "there was no good reason for changing the decision" of the previous state's attorney and make new presentations for Circuit Court trial of the parolee on the liquor theft and jail-breaking charges.

The man had been arrested by Maryland State Police in 1947 for breaking and entering a liquor store on Route 40 near Ridgeville and stealing between $1,300 and $1,400 worth of whiskey and wine.

While awaiting trial, Mauk and three others sawed through bars of the jail's lower floor and escaped during the night, taking the taxicab and driver to Gettysburg.

FBI entered the case under the so-called "Lindbergh law," crossing state lines with an unwilling captive. Mauk was caught and tried in Federal court, then sent to prison. In 1950, State's Attorney Nikirk notified Atlanta authorities that Frederick County stetted the cases against Mauk and the convicted man was eligible for parole.

CABLE TV NEWS

It costs as much as fifty times more to build and operate a TV station as compared to a radio station, therefore it certainly will be a long time before a city like Cumberland can afford more than one TV station. Trade magazines are indicating that many applicants for single TV assigned cities are planning on giving up their application for direct broadcasting and depend on cable TV. Their reasons are that they feel that the people will be better satisfied over a long period of time to receive several stations by cable TV, rather than have their people get stuck with ever getting more than one station good.

Here's an exercise to help you stand correctly, gracefully and effortlessly! Try it out today.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The pilfering of your looks and health by poor posture is done so little at a time that you are not apt to notice your loss until it is really great.

Walking and standing improperly throws the body out of correct alignment, forcing every part to overwork in performing its function. This taxes your energy to such an extent that none is left for the pep that contributes so much to charm.

Penalties Of Poor Posture

Any position that cramps the lungs cuts their supply of oxygen and affects your vitality, complexion, digestion and brain, to a state of depression. Even though you escape becoming actually ill through poor posture, you are sure to feel continually tired, listless and run-down.

And just look at this list of beauty ills that poor posture can cause! Bulging hips, barrel waist, fatty back, muscle-bound calves, stick-out hipbones, winged shoulder blades, scooped thighs and flat chest. How much posture errs determines the beauty loss that will befall you.

If you are not sure of how you "stand," send for our booklet, "Your Posture," which shows you both how to analyze and how to remedy your faults. The box below gives mailing instructions.

Good Remedy

You can get to work immediately on any posture deficiency with this exercise: With a long, flexible leather strap or belt at hand, kneel o the floor, resting your hips on your heels and keeping them there throughout. Kowtow forward so that your spine is curled and your head rests on the floor. Grasp the strap in both hands, hold it in front of your head and slide your hands outward until your arms are as far apart as possible. Now, as you pull back and out on the strap, uncurl your spine gradually until your back is erect and arched. Hold for a count of five and repeat slowly five times. Increase to twenty-five daily.

It's a honey of an exercise for strengthening and training every muscle required to stand correctly, gracefully and effortlessly — all prime requisites of a charmer!

YOUR POSTURE

To achieve grace of the highest degree — to make yours the posture ideal — to improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes as well, read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet! "YOUR POSTURE". For a copy write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 in coin to help cover cost.

Local Man Fined $500 In Tax Case

A Cumberland man was fined $500 in Federal Court yesterday in Baltimore on a charge of making a fraudulent income tax return in 1950.

He is Stephen J. Eckard, 51, an orderly at Memorial Hospital. Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut imposed the fine after hearing a plea for Eckard by William L. Wilson Jr., local attorney.

A plea of guilty to the charge was entered by Wilson for his client and he explained to the court the circumstances in the case.

Wilson told Judge Chesnut that Eckard had claimed as a dependent a non-existent granddaughter. When the return was later questioned Eckard paid the $300 tax due and interest and penalties for a total of $629.35. This transpired about 18 months ago.

In addition, Wilson told the court, Eckard filed an adjusted state income tax return and paid up in full. The court was informed that Eckard made an honest confession to the violation and had settled the claims in full. His client had medical expenses which he paid with part of the money saved by claiming a dependent.

The federal case was prosecuted by Herbert Hubbard, assistant U. S. district attorney.

Lloyd Mauk Receives Parole After Six Years In Prison

Lloyd Roger Mauk, 29, this city, has been paroled from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., after serving six years of a 12-year sentence for his part in "kidnapping" a Frederick taxicab driver.

Mauk and three others held in the Frederick County jail on a breaking and entering charge escaped from the lockup on January 27, 1947. They stuck up and kidnapped Mehrl L. Hobbs, the cabbie, and drove him to Gettysburg, Pa.

Mauk was detained this week in Frederick by authorities when he appeared to claim his Social Security card and other personal possessions. Sheriff R. Paul Buhrman did not know that former State's Attorney Edwin F. Nikirk of Frederick County had stetted a detainer placed against Mauk in Georgia.

When the man walked into Barracks B in Frederick to claim his personal belongings earlier this week he was held until conferences of state and county officers with State's Attorney Charles U. Price, resolved that "there was no good reason for changing the decision" of the previous state's attorney and make new presentations for Circuit Court trial of the parolee on the liquor theft and jail-breaking charges.

The man had been arrested by Maryland State Police in 1947 for breaking and entering a liquor store on Route 40 near Ridgeville and stealing between $1,300 and $1,400 worth of whiskey and wine.

While awaiting trial, Mauk and three others sawed through bars of the jail's lower floor and escaped during the night, taking the taxicab and driver to Gettysburg.

FBI entered the case under the so-called "Lindbergh law," crossing state lines with an unwilling captive. Mauk was caught and tried in Federal court, then sent to prison. In 1950, State's Attorney Nikirk notified Atlanta authorities that Frederick County stetted the cases against Mauk and the convicted man was eligible for parole.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 17—(INS)—Dinner with Sir Michael Balcon and his charming wife, turned out to be a double celebration. Sam Israel, head of Universal-International publicity, introduced us to his fiancee, Mrs. Phyllis Jean Snyder, an attractive widow. They've been in love for three years—a well hidden secret, I must say. So we toast them.

Then the Balcons revealed that they will become grandparents in September. Their daughter, Jill, British actress, who is married to Cecil Day Lewis, English poet, expects her first child. So, naturally, that called for another toast.

Sir Michael, whose "Lavendar Hill Mob" was last year's best British picture, has another goodie in "The Cruel Sea," based on the famous sea novel. He says Sir Alex Guinness is probably Britain's most popular actor.

Currently, he is making "The Love Lottery" for J. Arthur Rank, with David Niven and Paul Douglas.

The career of Mickey Rooney, beginning to sag in the middle last year, has taken a good bounce back toward the top at Columbia. The Mick is starting his third picture on this lot, "The Extra" and it gets the works, three-D and technicolor.

Once again Jonie Taps is the producer and Richard Quine, the director. They are the team which made "All Ashore" and "Sound Off" with Mickey.

Quine also co-authored "The Extra"a story—you may guess from the title—about the trials and tribulations of a movie bit player.

Lana Turner starts "The Flame And The Flesh" in London for Joe Pasternak May 27. He leaves Hollywood May 16, and he'll be in Europe 18 days instead of 18 months.

After he finishes the Turner picture, Joe plans to ask MGM for three months leave of absence to produce "Jail Bait," a musical comedy on Broadway. He and song writer Nicholas Brodszky have been working on this idea for a long time, and it looks now as if it will materialize.

Jeanne Crain with new red hair, and Paul Brinkman minus his mustache, were the center of attraction at Ella Logan's opening at the Mocambo.

Shelly Winters, in a new Loper gown, pounds and pounds thinner, was having a good time, same night, same place, and that, I am glad to see.

Vittorio Gassman, who meets Charles Vidor in Paris May 1, and then goes on to Switzerland for "Rhapsody," now won't be home until the second week in May.

Comedian Romo Vincent has been ordered by his M. D. to take 65 pounds off of his 270. Romo hopes this won't put him out of business. He won his reputation as a fat man.

Nice honor for Harriet Parsons—Danny Blum dedicates his 1953 film annual screen world to her with a big photograph on the first page. He says, "To Harriet Parsons, my favorite producer and loyal friend."

Producer Maurice Duke and his wife expect their second child in October. He is currently filming "The Russ Colombo Story."

Character Actor Harold Gordon and Ingle Jollos who were secretly married in Las Vegas, are motoring to New York. Gordon was in "The Jazz Singer."

Keep your eye on Liz Whitney and Dick Lund, of Washington. As I said, this romance is serious.

That's all today—See you Monday.

Burglary Occurs In Fire Hall At Piedmont

PIEDMONT — The clubroom of the Piedmont Fire Company on the third floor of the Dixon Building, Second Street, was entered sometime Monday night.

James Harrison, chief of police, who is investigating, stated that the burglary was discovered by Mrs. Beckie Bryan. Harrison stated the only thing taken from the place was $5 in West Virginia sales tax money and some chewing gum and merchandise.

The catacombs of Paris are vast underground excavations which formerly furnished the city's building materials.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 17—(INS)—Dinner with Sir Michael Balcon and his charming wife, turned out to be a double celebration. Sam Israel, head of Universal-International publicity, introduced us to his fiancee, Mrs. Phyllis Jean Snyder, an attractive widow. They've been in love for three years—a well hidden secret, I must say. So we toast them.

Then the Balcons revealed that they will become grandparents in September. Their daughter, Jill, British actress, who is married to Cecil Day Lewis, English poet, expects her first child. So, naturally, that called for another toast.

Sir Michael, whose "Lavendar Hill Mob" was last year's best British picture, has another goodie in "The Cruel Sea," based on the famous sea novel. He says Sir Alex Guinness is probably Britain's most popular actor.

Currently, he is making "The Love Lottery" for J. Arthur Rank, with David Niven and Paul Douglas.

The career of Mickey Rooney, beginning to sag in the middle last year, has taken a good bounce back toward the top at Columbia. The Mick is starting his third picture on this lot. "The Extra" and it gets the works, three-D and technicolor.

Once again Jonie Taps is the producer and Richard Quine, the director. They are the team which made "All Ashore" and "Sound Off" with Mickey.

Quine also co-authored "The Extra"a story—you may guess from the title—about the trials and tribulations of a movie bit player.

Lana Turner starts "The Flame And The Flesh" in London for Joe Pasternak May 27. He leaves Hollywood May 16, and he'll be in Europe 18 days instead of 18 months.

After he finishes the Turner picture, Joe plans to ask MGM for three months leave of absence to produce "Jail Bait," a musical comedy on Broadway. He and song writer Nicholas Brodszky have been working on this idea for a long time, and it looks now as if it will materialize.

Jeanne Crain with new red hair, and Paul Brinkman minus his mustache, were the center of attraction at Ella Logan's opening at the Mocambo.

Shelly Winters, in a new Loper gown, pounds and pounds thinner, was having a good time, same night, same place, and that, I am glad to see.

Vittorio Gassman, who meets Charles Vidor in Paris May 1, and then goes on to Switzerland for "Rhapsody," now won't be home until the second week in May.

Comedian Romo Vincent has been ordered by his M. D. to take 65 pounds off of his 270. Romo hopes this won't put him out of business. He won his reputation as a fat man.

Nice honor for Harriet Parsons—Danny Blum dedicates his 1953 film annual screen world to her with a big photograph on the first page. He says, "To Harriet Parsons, my favorite producer and loyal friend."

Producer Maurice Duke and his wife expect their second child in October. He is currently filming "The Russ Colombo Story."

Character Actor Harold Gordon and Ingle Jollos who were secretly married in Las Vegas, are motoring to New York. Gordon was in "The Jazz Singer."

Keep your eye on Liz Whitney and Dick Lund, of Washington. As I said, this romance is serious.

That's all today—See you Monday.

A small pocket knife is often called a pen knife because its original purpose was to sharpen quills for pens.

Hannibal crossed the Alps in 218 B. C.

The catacombs of Paris are vast underground excavations which formerly furnished the city's building materials.

Burglary Occurs In Fire Hall At Piedmont

PIEDMONT — The clubroom of the Piedmont Fire Company on the third floor of the Dixon Building, Second Street, was entered sometime Monday night.

James Harrison, chief of police, who is investigating, stated that the burglary was discovered by Mrs. Beckie Bryan. Harrison stated the only thing taken from the place was $5 in West Virginia sales tax money and some chewing gum and merchandise.

Entrance was made by forcing the door, Chief Harrison stated.

Linder Objects To Bid Refusal

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Harold F. Linder, a high State Department official, today took issue with the Defense Department decision to reject a British bid for electrical equipment that was almost a million dollars below the lowest U. S. offer.

Linder, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, told a special investigating group of the House Agriculture Committee that if specifications were met he thought the contract should have been awarded to the British bidder.

Linder's comment came in reply to a question by Chairman Andresen (R-Minn).

Linder said, however, "If there were questions in the mind of the secretary of defense as to the adequacy of the British product then I can understand why he has asked for new bids." But he added:

"It seems clear to me that the British bidders who are in a position to save this country one million dollars—and who were paying $600,000 in duty—should have been awarded the contract."

Linder was testifying on legislation to control imports of dairy and other products.

Linder Objects To Bid Refusal

WASHINGTON, April 17 (AP)—Harold F. Linder, a high State Department official, today took issue with the Defense Department decision to reject a British bid for electrical equipment that was almost a million dollars below the lowest U. S. offer.

Linder, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, told a special investigating group of the House Agriculture Committee that if specifications were met he thought the contract should have been awarded to the British bidder.

Linder's comment came in reply to a question by Chairman Andresen (R-Minn).

Linder said, however, "If there were questions in the mind of the secretary of defense as to the adequacy of the British product then I can understand why he has asked for new bids." But he added:

"It seems clear to me that the British bidders who are in a position to save this country one million dollars—and who were paying $600,000 in duty—should have been awarded the contract."

Linder was testifying on legislation to control imports of dairy and other products.

The bids rejected were for transformers and generators needed at the new Chief Joseph Dam, a power project being built by the Army Engineers near Bridgeport, Wash., on the Columbia River.

Moderate Selling Forces Stock Market Prices Down

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — The stock market ran into a moderate amount of selling today, and that was enough to put prices down all around.

The drop was the greatest in the past two weeks since the severe fall of April 6 when the market touched the low of the year.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.30 and stood at $109.00, only 30 cents above the low of the year.

Volume at 1,430,000 shares was up from yesterday's 1,310,000, but it still was well below the daily average so far this year.

North American Co. was the day's most active issue unchanged at 21⅝ with 17,100 shares traded. It was followed by Willys-Overland off ⅛ at 14⅞, Pacific Western Oil up ¾ at 38 (the only stock in the list of ten most active to advance), Canadian Pacific off ⅞ at 27¾, and Radio Corp. off ¼ at 26½.

Also lower were Atlantic Coast Line Railroad off 2¾ at 107, Santa Fe 2¼ at 93¾, Southern Railway 1⅞ at 84⅛, Standard Oil (NJ) 1 at 70½, 20th Century-Fox ½ at 17, American Telephone ⅜ at 155⅞, Kennecott Copper 1½ at 68⅛, DuPont ⅞ at 94¼, American Woolen 1¼ at 21¼, International Paper 1 at 49, Armco Steel ⅜ at 38⅞, Bethlehem Steel 1 at 51, General Motors 1 at 61½, Chrysler 1¼ at 77¾, Douglas Aircraft 1 at 62¾, Distillers Corp. ½ at 26⅜ and Admiral Corp. ⅜ at 27⅛.

Chicago Board Of Trade

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—The grain market presented a mixed appearance today with wheat showing a relatively easy undertone. May and July wheat sank to new seasonal lows.

Closing futures:
Wheat: May 2.18⅛-18; Jly 2.21¼-⅛; Sep 2.25⅛-⅜; Dec 2.31⅛-31; Mar 2.35¼.
Corn: May 1.58¼-⅜; Jly 1.61¼-½; Sep 1.59⅝; Dec 1.56⅜.
Oats: May 75⅛-75; Jly 73⅞-¾; Sep 74¾; Dec 77⅜.
Rye: May 1.64½-⅝; Jly 1.68-68¼; Sep 1.72; Dec 1.75¾.

Firemen Battle Woodland Blaze

Three West Virginia volunteer fire companies battled a wind-swept woodland blaze for nearly four hours yesterday on Knobley Mountain near Ridgeley before bringing the flames under control.

Firemen from Ridgeley, Wiley Ford and Short Gap companies answered the first alarm at 11 a. m. and had the leaping flames under control about 3 p. m., Ridgeley Fire Chief Leo Rice said last night.

Approximately 30 to 35 men and several Ridgeley High School students helped battle the blaze which destroyed some eight or nine acres of woodland above the Western Maryland Railway tunnel on Knobley.

The watchman at Potomac Edison power station near Carpenter's Addition called firemen again again about 6 p. m. when the blaze started on the other side of the mountain, but the flames were quickly extinguished, Rice added.

Sparks from burning paper at the Ridgeley city dump on Route 28 were believed the cause of this spring's first woodland fire.

B'Nai B'Rith Plans State Convention

The Maryland and District of Columbia Association of B'Nai B'Rith lodges will hold its 12th annual convention at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, Sunday, when the Women's Association will be reactivated.

Highlights of the convention will be a presentation of a citation by Herman Lasken, Silver Spring, president of the association, and Sam Eig, Silver Spring, president of the Hillel Building Corporation of the University of Maryland, to Dr. H. C. Byrd, university president.

The citation is for Byrd's "devotion to democratic principles of freedom and religion, and for his effective work in the cause of understanding and mutual respect among the various faiths represented at the university, and for his personal interest in behalf of the Hillel Foundation at the university."

Election of officers for the ensuing year will conclude the convention. Delegates who expect to attend from Cumberland are Julius E. Schindler, Robert Kaplon and Frank Kaplon.

Moderate Selling Forces Stock Market Prices Down

NEW YORK, April 17 (AP) — The stock market ran into a moderate amount of selling today, and that was enough to put prices down all around.

The drop was the greatest in the past two weeks since the severe fall of April 6 when the market touched the low of the year.

Pressure on the list was not great today.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.30 and stood at $109.00, only 30 cents above the low of the year.

Firemen Battle Woodland Blaze

Three West Virginia volunteer fire companies battled a wind-swept woodland blaze for nearly four hours yesterday on Knobley Mountain near Ridgeley before bringing the flames under control.

Firemen from Ridgeley, Wiley Ford and Short Gap companies answered the first alarm at 11 a. m. and had the leaping flames under control about 3 p. m., Ridgeley Fire Chief Leo Rice said last night.

Approximately 30 to 35 men and several Ridgeley High School students helped battle the blaze which destroyed some eight or nine acres of woodland above the Western Maryland Railway tunnel on Knobley.

The watchman at Potomac Edison power station near Carpenter's Addition called firemen again again about 6 p. m. when the blaze started on the other side of the mountain, but the flames were quickly extinguished, Rice added.

Sparks from burning paper at the Ridgeley city dump on Route 28 were believed the cause of this spring's first woodland fire.

B'Nai B'Rith Plans State Convention

The Maryland and District of Columbia Association of B'Nai B'Rith lodges will hold its 12th annual convention at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, Sunday, when the Women's Association will be reactivated.

Highlights of the convention will be a presentation of a citation by Herman Lasken, Silver Spring, president of the association, and Sam Eig, Silver Spring, president of the Hillel Building Corporation of the University of Maryland, to Dr. H. C. Byrd, university president.

The citation is for Byrd's "devotion to democratic principles of freedom and religion, and for his effective work in the cause of understanding and mutual respect among the various faiths represented at the university, and for his personal interest in behalf of the Hillel Foundation at the university."

Election of officers for the ensuing year will conclude the convention. Delegates who expect to attend from Cumberland are Julius E. Schindler, Robert Kaplon and Frank Kaplon.

Recalls Boost Amcelle Staff To 4,290 Mark

Immediate Prospects Are Considered Good

Almost 300 workers have been recalled to the Amcelle plant since late in February as the Celanese Corporation of America stepped up production of cellulose acetate flake and yarn here to meet increased market demands.

And a plant spokesman said the immediate prospects for the plant, the major industrial center of Western Maryland, look good.

Employment at the Amcelle plant started on a definite upgrade late in February and 282 workers have been recalled since that time. time.

Present employment of 4,290, including hourly paid and staff workers, represents an increase of 390 from late December, when the total payroll was at the 3,900 mark.

Exclusives Are Popular

Most of the recalled workers are employed in the Textile, Spinning and Cellulose Acetate Departments, with scattered recalls in other departments to meet the needs of increased production.

Officials said the demand for "Celaperm," which is manufactured solely at the Amcelle plant, is growing and that the colored yarn has found good acceptance in the textile trade.

There has also been some increase in the production of "Fortisan," another Amcelle exclusive. All of the yarn is being used by the armed forces at present.

To Push Flood Work

The coming of good weather is expected to boost the area employment figures.

The E. J. Albrecht Company, which holds flood control contracts for Wills Creek channel work and for the construction of an industrial dam across the Potomac River, is expected to push both projects and all workers, except for supervision, will come from this area.

Additional workers will be needed for road and construction work slated in this area this summer.

Frostburg Fire Fighting Course Begins Sunday

Local Department To Attend Session

The first of two regional fire fighting instruction courses to be held at Frostburg Fire Department is slated tomorrow in the Mountain City with classes for area firemen to begin at 9 a.m.

The second of the two courses, sponsored by the Fire Service Extension of the University of Maryland, will be held at Frostburg, May 3.

Cumberland Fire Chief Virgil Parker said last night he hopes to have most of the city's firemen enrolled in one or more of the classes scheduled for the two days.

Afternoon sessions will include large scale demonstrations in fire fighting at the Frostburg headquarters, Chief Parker stated.

Parker also noted driver instructions and tests will be given local firemen who desire to become chauffeurs in the Cumberland Fire Department, beginning Monday.

Assistant Chief R. C. Long will instruct the new drivers and test present chauffeurs, Parker said, and his recommendations will be checked by the fire chief.

Also on the Fire Department agenda for Monday is the beginning of the brush and lot burning campaign for this summer, Parker continued.

The first lot scheduled to be burned under direct supervision of the firemen is Wempe field near Jane Frazier Village, Parker noted, and the brush burning drive will be continued on West Side, East Side and North End.

Parker estimated the fire companies saved approximately 50 to 60 calls on grass fires by the burning campaign conducted last year.

Snow, Frost Predicted For Area Monday

Wet And Warmer Weekend Expected

Warming temperatures accompanied by showers were forecast for the Cumberland area this weekend, but the weatherman said relief for the fruit growers would only be temporary.

Probable snow has been forecast for Allegany and Garrett Counties on Monday, and also the Hancock area where a frost early this week killed an estimated 15 per cent of the peach crop.

The five-day state forecast warned that temperature Monday or Tuesday morning may be below critical freezing points for fruit buds.

Shift In Wind Helps

Only a sudden shift of wind in the Hancock area saved the fruit crop from further damage yesterday morning. A drop to 28 degrees had been predicted, but the wind change shortly before midnight boosted mercury readings to between 38 and 44.

The wind blew all morning in the Cumberland area yesterday, keeping thermometers in the 38-44 range and preventing fruit damage. Not much damage was done to peach and apple trees in this area earlier this week since orchards were mostly located on high elevations where temperatures remained warmer.

However, some of the lower spots like Paw Paw, W. Va., reported slight damage to fruit. Fruit growers reported that continued low readings will eventually cause extensive damage to ripe buds.

Some other sections of Maryland had it colder yesterday morning. Overnight lows of 30 were reported at Waterloo and Randallstown, and state police said readings of 32 were recorded at Benson and Waldorf.

Temperatures this morning are to range between 32 and 40. Rain is expected in extreme Western Maryland today, and showers are due in Central and East portions this afternoon and night.

For the state in general, temperatures averaging near or slightly below the season normals are expected during the next five days.

Police On Lookout For Escaped Soldiers

City policemen have been alerted to be on the lookout for the possible return to Cumberland of two local soldiers who escaped the Fort Meade stockade yesterday where they were being held for trial on AWOL charges.

The two men are Ronald G. Logue, 20, of 415 Central Avenue; and Mayo P. Troutman, 23, of 408 Pine Avenue.

Postal Department Issues Louisiana Purchase Stamp

The Post Office Department will issue a three-cent Louisiana Purchase commemorative postage stamp through the St. Louis, Md., post office April 30, and it will be on sale at the Cumberland office May 1.

The department has ordered an initial printing of 110,000,000 of the stamps which will be maroon in color.

The central subject of the stamp is a reproduction of a sculptured plaque of Karl Bitter, depicting James Monroe, Robert R. Livingston and Francois Barbe Marbois, signing the Louisiana Transfer at Paris in 1803.

Stamp collectors and dealers desiring first-day cancellations of the stamp may send a reasonable number of addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Saint Louis, Mo., with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. The envelopes should be endorsed "First-Day Covers."

For the benefit of collectors desiring stamps of selected quality for philatelic use, the new commemorative stamp will be available at the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, Washington, 25, D. C.

High School Students Will Ballot Today For Youth Mayor And Four Councilmen

Voting Scheduled At City Hall Here

Students from the seven public and Catholic high schools in Cumberland will vote at the City Hall from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. today to elect a Youth Mayor and City Council in a community project sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Ten students from Allegany, Fort Hill and LaSalle High Schools who gained nomination in the primary election three weeks ago today are the candidates. From among their number a Youth Mayor and four Councilmen will be named. They will "run" the city for a day sometime in May.

Last Campaign Licks

Many candidates were getting in their last campaign licks on downtown streets last night. A truck with a small band and a number of automobiles drove along the downtown streets "whooping it up" for their favorites.

All competing candidates have announced platforms upon which they are running. All have focused attention on needs for recreational and traffic control improvements and for a program to stimulate new industry for the city.

Two Allegany High School senior boys are the rivals for mayor. They are Kenneth W. McGraw and David Walton. Although Walton has campaigned as an independent, McGraw has formed a ticket with two other Allegany students who are running for council. Teamed with McGraw are Chester L. Price and Donald Paye.

Form Coalition

Four other councilmanic candidates, representing three different schools and different sections of the city, have formed a coalition for today's general election. They are Barbara Ann Campbell, Fort Hill; Dean A. Hancox, Allegany; Charles Kienhofer, LaSalle, and John Raupach, Fort Hill.

The other two council candidates are traveling the independent road. They are Edward Athey of Fort Hill and Barbara Nicholls, Allegany.

More than half of the 2,152 eligible voters are expected to mark ballots in today's election. All reg-

The council has reserved a few extra places for the benefit of those who have not made reservations and they will be released to the first boys calling for them.

A meeting of all boys planning to attend the Jamboree will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at Trinity Methodist Church, Piedmont, W. Va.

Movies of the 1950 Jamboree held at Valley Forge, Pa., will be shown and plans for this year's event will be discussed. Parents and boys interested are invited to attend the meeting.

Scout officials said that when the area boys reach the tent city at Irvine Ranch they will join with 57,000 other Scouts in participating in pageants, ceremonies, campfires, music, demonstrations of all types of campcraft and Scoutcraft, swapping and friendship-making and opportunities to meet some of America's outstanding citizens and celebrities. They will also meet boys from 50 other nations.

Conducted Tours

Besides events at the tent city in California, boys will be taken on two different routes, coming and going across the United States, stopping at various points of interest for conducted tours.

The Potomac Council contingent will leave Cumberland July 8 and will form with a section of Region 3 in Pittsburgh. Travel across the country will be in air conditioned Pullman on a special B. and O. train.

Conducted sightseeing tours will include Chicago, Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Yellowstone Park, Grand Canyon and Albuquerque. Six days will be spent in sight seeing. The group will return here July 29.

Strong Wind Gust Destroys Garage, Breaks Windows

A gust of wind yesterday morning caused a Ridgeley family considerable trouble:

It completely demolished a large garage causing damage to the family's car and truck; the building's roof was blown against the family's home, breaking several windows and a frame, then it landed on the highway to block traffic for several hours.

Michael J. Sirna of Frankfort Road, reported that the pocket of strong wind came from the south down the slope of Knobley Mountain, striking his father's four-door garage.

When the gust struck Sam Sirna's garage, on Knobley Road, one side fell in to damage his car and the other side landed on the truck, causing slight damage. The rest of the garage was blown over the area.

Meanwhile the roof was carried by the wind to strike the father's house, knocking out a window, frame and all, and breaking several other windows with its vibrating force.

Next the roof fell on Frankfort Road blocking traffic. The son said, "There's no garage left now, just a 22 by 40 foot space." He said the unusual freak occurred about 10 a. m., and estimated damage at about $1,000.

Vocational Leaders Attend State Meeting

About 20 representatives from Allegany County were scheduled to attend a state-wide meeting of the Maryland Vocational Association on vocational leadership today at Milford Mill Junior-Senior High School at Rockdale in Baltimore County.

Leading the local delegation will be J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of vocational, industrial and adult education, and Miss Ruth C. McColly, supervisor of home economics.

Luther Gable To Be Guest Of Cumberland Dinner Club

Luther Gable, member of the faculty of American Television Institute of Technology, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Cumberland National Dinner Club tonight at 7 o'clock at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

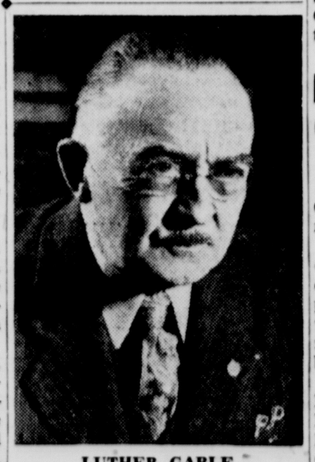

Gable's topic, "Modern Miracles," is considered one of the most timely in the field of radar, television and nuclear fission.

Ivan Diehl, president of the local dinner club, said Gable uses a "Black Light" display to illustrate his talks which describe the wonders of the world of modern science.

Gable was born October 24, 1880, in Shamokin, Pa., the son of Martin Luther Gable and Jennie Perculla Gable. He is married to the former Hattie Elizabeth Russell and the couple has three children.

A registered professional engineer in Illinois, Gable formerly served in the U. S. Army Signal Corps as an engineer specialist. He prospected in Western Canada and the Arctic and is credited with opening the Lake Hardesty pitchbland deposits at the Arctic Circle.

Gable made the first luminous radium watch dials in America and helped refine the first commercial radium from Colorado carnatite.

Companies represented were Barton, Fort Ashby, District 16, Bedford Road, Bowling Green, Ellerslie, Short Gap, Cresaptown, Corriganville and Ridgeley.

The next meeting of the group will be held May 15.

Courtesy Tag Planned For Visitors Cars

Police, C. Of C. Co-Operate In Plan

The Cumberland Police Department and the Chamber of Commerce are co-operating in a plan to encourage out-of-town shoppers in this city.

Police and Fire Commissioner John J. Long announced last night that an out-of-state courtesy card will be placed into use here as soon as copies come from the printers.

Instead of getting a conventional traffic ticket, out-of-town motorists will find a courtesy card attached to their cars in case of minor violations.

One side of the card reads:

"Cumberland welcomes you and hopes your sojourn with us will be most pleasant and that you will return often.

No Penalty Card

"If it happens that you have violated any of the parking rules enumerated below, this will relieve you of any penalty.

"You will be of great help to us and add to your pleasure if you will observe our traffic rules."

The card contains seven violations to be checked by the officer. They include overtime parking, double parking, wrong side of the street, bus stop zone, loading zone, too far from curb and too close to corner. Additional spaces are provided at the bottom for other notations and the officer's name.

On the back of the card is the following:

"Cumberland, Queen City of the Alleghenies and county seat of Allegany County, is a scenic, industrial and commercial center of Western Maryland and site of the famous "Narrows," Gateway to the West through the Allegheny Mountains.

Is Historic City

"Rich in history, Cumberland is an historic yet modern town. Its residents can point to the spot where George Washington lived and where the British defended the town against the Indians. Yet less than a mile away, they can show their visitors modern industrial plants that many cities would envy.

"Trading center—being the largest city between Washington and Pittsburgh, Cumberland is the hub of a large trading area including parts of Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Its retail stores attract customers from a radius of 70 miles and more. Nearly 600 retail outlets and 85 wholesale establishments are located in the city.

"A friendly city—Cumberlanders like their home town and want visitors to like it too. At City Hall, or at the Chamber of Commerce, the visitor can obtain information about Cumberland and its merchants and townspeople are always ready to lend a helping hand."

Will Check Violators

Commissioner Long pointed out that the card contains no space for parking on red lines, on the assumption that red lines are illegal everywhere.

Speeding and similar serious traffic violations will of course be covered by conventional traffic tickets, since the plan is not intended to condone deliberate traffic violations but to excuse honest mistakes.

The commissioner said officers will be asked to check carefully to see that drivers from nearby out-of-state communities do not abuse the privilege.

He said the plan will be given a fair trial since the Police Department wants to do its part to encourage business in this city.

Man Collapses, Dies At Meeting

William E. Schneider, 56, Celanese Corporation employee, collapsed and died while attending a meeting at the Red Men's Hall, Frederick Street, about 9:30 last night.

Dr. H. V. Deming, county medical examiner, attributed death to a heart condition, and said Schneider was dead upon his arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was taken after he collapsed at the hall.

Governor Says Worthless Bills Not Emergency

Advocates Home Rule To Avoid Mix-Ups

ANNAPOLIS, April 17 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said tonight he saw no emergency warranting a special session in the fact three bills passed by the 1953 Legislature apparently are worthless.

He said the whole mixup was a good argument for granting "home rule" to Maryland's cities and towns.

The governor declared he found "at this moment" no good reason for a special session in a statement to his office from Kansas City. He speaks there tomorrow night in behalf of the Israeli bond drive as part of a nation-wide speaking tour with which he is combining a vacation.

Situation Not Serious

Before leaving he had announced he didn't think the situation was serious enough to call back the Legislature because a rent-control bill for Baltimore City, Hagerstown and Allegany County was found defective.

Later it developed a measure to reduce the tax on mutual savings banks may be invalid. And today it appeared one of the session's major actions, revising the assessment system, was improperly passed. The trouble was the same as with the rent bill—Senate and House adopted different versions.

"I cannot see where the failure of the assessment bill would create an immediate emergency in any subdivision of the state," McKeldin said. "Certainly if it would, I would like to know more about the details before rushing into the convening of the General Assembly."

He said it wasn't clear yet whether the flaw in the bank-tax bill was fatal, but hinted he wouldn't be too disturbed if it were. The banks have "existed and prospered" for years with the present tax level, he said.

"It would take a wild flight of the imagination to find an emergency in this instance," he added.

Mistakes Understandable

The proposal to reduce the levy became a white-hot topic among Baltimore legislators, for all but one of the state's savings banks are in the city. The other is in Silver Spring, Montgomery County.

The finding of mistakes in the assessment and bank bills increased pressure for a special session, but the governor repeated he saw no dire circumstances to demand consideration before the regular session next February.

Clerical errors could be alarming, he said, and appear to be a result of the system in Maryland.

'Indeed, with the great mass of trivial local legislation with which the Legislature and clerical forces must deal, it sometimes seems amazing that more mistakes are not made," McKeldin said.

The assessment bill amounted to this:

Three-Year Cycle

In 1951 the Legislature enacted a new assessment plan, which calls for placing the reassessments on a three-year cycle instead of the present five-year cycle, at the end of this year.

But the three-year plan enacted two years ago calls for freezing all new assessments until each county is covered every three years—which means that new assessment figures would be frozen for a three-year period.

The revised plan passed by the last General Assembly provided that new assessments would become effective immediately, but if the revised plan is judged unconstitutional, it means the 1951 act still will become effective.

Weather

Spring came back to the Queen City yesterday as a bright cheerful sun splashed shadows over the area. A swift, warm wind swept the city all day, but mercury climbed to a high of 63 degrees according to Constitution Park weather station. Low was 38 and at 8 o'clock last night, thermometers stood at 53 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was a dry 40 per cent. The Weather Bureau predicts cloudy and rather warm weather for today followed by rain this afternoon.

New Publication Discusses B&O, Western Md. Railways

NEW YORK — The Baltimore and Ohio, the Pennsylvania, and Western Maryland are among 11 United States railroads discussed by Col. H. A. McBride in "Trains Rolling" published this week by The MacMillan Company.

Each of these roads has some special field of superiority, Col. McBride notes. B. and O. has shown the whole country how a railroad should be built and operated for the public good and what it could be expected to accomplish in developing America's unlimited resources. The Pennsylvania's New York-Washington main stem is the most phenomenal piece of railroad in the world, carrying the heaviest passenger traffic in the United States. And Western Maryland excels all others in the care it takes of its rolling stock.

In "Trains Rolling" Col. McBride tells the stories of 11 American railroads and of Union Station in the nation's capital. The book also includes chapters on the railroads of Morocco, Western Germany, and Spain, and is illustrated with 237 photographs taken by the author.

Col. H. A. McBride's lifelong hobby has been railroads. For years he has been studying them, writing about them and photographing them. For almost 30 years he has served in the U. S. Foreign Service, and he was an assistant to the secretary of State under secretaries Stimson and Hull. He is now administrator of the National Gallery of Art in Washington.

Recalls Boost Amcelle Staff To 4,290 Mark

Immediate Prospects Are Considered Good

Almost 300 workers have been recalled to the Amcelle plant since late in February as the Celanese Corporation of America stepped up production of cellulose acetate flake and yarn here to meet increased market demands.

And a plant spokesman said the immediate prospects for the plant, the major industrial center of Western Maryland, look good.

Employment at the Amcelle plant started on a definite upgrade late in February and 282 workers have been recalled since that time. time.

Present employment of 4,290, including hourly paid and staff workers, represents an increase of 390 from late December, when the total payroll was at the 3,900 mark.

Exclusives Are Popular

Most of the recalled workers are employed in the Textile, Spinning and Cellulose Acetate Departments, with scattered recalls in other departments to meet the needs of increased production.

Officials said the demand for "Celaperm," which is manufactured solely at the Amcelle plant, is growing and that the colored yarn has found good acceptance in the textile trade.

There has also been some increase in the production of "Fortisan," another Amcelle exclusive. All of the yarn is being used by the armed forces at present.

To Push Flood Work

Other industrial plants of the area are operating on full schedules.

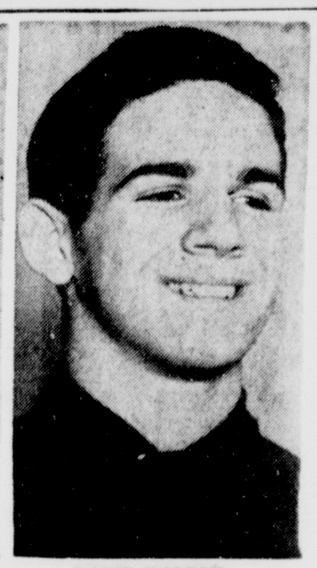

The coming of good weather is expected to boost the area employment figures.

The E. J. Albrecht Company, which holds flood control contracts for Wills Creek channel work and for the construction of an industrial dam across the Potomac River, is expected to push both projects and all workers, except for supervision, will come from this area.

Additional workers will be needed for road and construction work slated in this area this summer.

Snow, Frost Predicted For Area Monday

Wet And Warmer Weekend Expected

Warming temperatures accompanied by showers were forecast for the Cumberland area this weekend, but the weatherman said relief for the fruit growers would only be temporary.

Probable snow has been forecast for Allegany and Garrett Counties on Monday, and also the Hancock area where a frost early this week killed an estimated 15 per cent of the peach crop.

The five-day state forecast warned that temperature Monday or Tuesday morning may be below critical freezing points for fruit buds.

Shift In Wind Helps

Only a sudden shift of wind in the Hancock area saved the fruit crop from further damage yesterday morning. A drop to 28 degrees had been predicted, but the wind change shortly before midnight boosted mercury readings to between 38 and 44.

The wind blew all morning in the Cumberland area yesterday, keeping thermometers in the 38-44 range and preventing fruit damage. Not much damage was done to peach and apple trees in this area earlier this week since orchards were mostly located on high elevations where temperatures remained warmer.

However, some of the lower spots like Paw Paw, W. Va., reported slight damage to fruit. Fruit growers reported that continued low readings will eventually cause extensive damage to ripe buds.

Some other sections of Maryland had it colder yesterday morning. Overnight lows of 30 were reported at Waterloo and Randallstown, and state police said readings of 32 were recorded at Benson and Waldorf.

Temperatures this morning are to range between 32 and 40. Rain is expected in extreme Western Maryland today, and showers are due in Central and East portions this afternoon and night.

For the state in general, temperatures averaging near or slightly below the season normals are expected during the next five days.

Frostburg Fire Fighting Course Begins Sunday

Local Department To Attend Session

The first of two regional fire fighting instruction courses to be held at Frostburg Fire Department is slated tomorrow in the Mountain City with classes for area firemen to begin at 9 a.m.

The second of the two courses, sponsored by the Fire Service Extension of the University of Maryland, will be held at Frostburg, May 3.

Cumberland Fire Chief Virgil Parker said last night he hopes to have most of the city's firemen enrolled in one or more of the classes scheduled for the two days.

Instruction will be given in pump operation, use of gas masks, chemistry of fire, rescue operation and hose evolutions and ladder work.

Afternoon sessions will include large scale demonstrations in fire fighting at the Frostburg headquarters, Chief Parker stated.

Parker also noted driver instructions and tests will be given local firemen who desire to become chauffeurs in the Cumberland Fire Department, beginning Monday.

Assistant Chief R. C. Long will instruct the new drivers and test present chauffeurs, Parker said, and his recommendations will be checked by the fire chief.

Also on the Fire Department agenda for Monday is the beginning of the brush and lot burning campaign for this summer, Parker continued.

The first lot scheduled to be burned under direct supervision of the firemen is Wempe field near Jane Frazier Village, Parker noted, and the brush burning drive will be continued on West Side, East Side and North End.

Parker estimated the fire companies saved approximately 50 to 60 calls on grass fires by the burning campaign conducted last year.

Police On Lookout For Escaped Soldiers

City policemen have been alerted to be on the lookout for the possible return to Cumberland of two local soldiers who escaped the Fort Meade stockade yesterday where they were being held for trial on AWOL charges.

The two men are Ronald G. Logue, 20, of 415 Central Avenue; and Mayo P. Troutman, 23, of 408 Pine Avenue.

Postal Department Issues Louisiana Purchase Stamp

The Post Office Department will issue a three-cent Louisiana Purchase commemorative postage stamp through the St. Louis, Md., post office April 30, and it will be on sale at the Cumberland office May 1.

The department has ordered an initial printing of 110,000,000 of the stamps which will be maroon in color.

The central subject of the stamp is a reproduction of a sculptured plaque of Karl Bitter, depicting James Monroe. Robert R. Livingston and Francois Barbe Marbois, signing the Louisiana Transfer at Paris in 1803.

Stamp collectors and dealers desiring first-day cancellations of the stamp may send a reasonable number of addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Saint Louis, Mo., with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. The envelopes should be endorsed "First-Day Covers."

For the benefit of collectors desiring stamps of selected quality for philatelic use, the new commemorative stamp will be available at the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, Washington, 25, D. C.

High School Students Will Ballot Today For Youth Mayor And Four Councilmen

Voting Scheduled At City Hall Here

Students from the seven public and Catholic high schools in Cumberland will vote at the City Hall from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. today to elect a Youth Mayor and City Council in a community project sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Ten students from Allegany, Fort Hill and LaSalle High Schools who gained nomination in the primary election three weeks ago today are the candidates. From among their number a Youth Mayor and four Councilmen will be named. They will "run" the city for a day sometime in May.

Last Campaign Licks

Many candidates were getting in their last campaign licks on downtown streets last night. A truck with a small band and a number of automobiles drove along the downtown streets "whooping it up" for their favorites.

All competing candidates have announced platforms upon which they are running. All have focused attention on needs for recreational and traffic control improvements and for a program to stimulate new industry for the city.

Two Allegany High School senior boys are the rivals for mayor. They are Kenneth W. McGraw and David Walton. Although Walton has campaigned as an independent, McGraw has formed a ticket with two other Allegany students who are running for council. Teamed with McGraw are Chester L. Price and Donald Paye.

Form Coalition

Four other councilmanic candidates, representing three different schools and different sections of the city, have formed a coalition for today's general election. They are Barbara Ann Campbell, Fort Hill; Dean A. Hancox, Allegany; Charles Kienhofer, LaSalle, and John Raupach, Fort Hill.

The other two council candidates are traveling the independent road. They are Edward Athey of Fort Hill and Barbara Nicholls, Allegany.

More than half of the 2,152 eligible voters are expected to mark ballots in today's election. All reg-

"If it happens that you have violated any of the parking rules enumerated below, this will relieve you of any penalty.

"You will be of great help to us and add to your pleasure if you will observe our traffic rules."

The card contains seven violations to be checked by the officer. They include overtime parking, double parking, wrong side of the street, bus stop zone, loading zone, too far from curb and too close to corner. Additional spaces are provided at the bottom for other notations and the officer's name.

On the back of the card is the following:

Is Historic City

"Rich in history, Cumberland is an historic yet modern town. Its residents can point to the spot where George Washington lived and where the British defended the town against the Indians. Yet less than a mile away, they can show their visitors modern industrial plants that many cities would envy.

"Trading center—being the largest city between Washington and Pittsburgh, Cumberland is the hub of a large trading area including parts of Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. Its retail stores attract customers from a radius of 70 miles and more. Nearly 600 retail outlets and 85 wholesale establishments are located in the city.

"A friendly city—Cumberlanders like their home town and want visitors to like it too. At City Hall, or at the Chamber of Commerce, the visitor can obtain information about Cumberland and its merchants and townspeople are always ready to lend a helping hand."

Will Check Violators

Commissioner Long pointed out that the card contains no space for parking on red lines, on the assumption that red lines are illegal everywhere.

Speeding and similar serious traffic violations will of course be covered by conventional traffic tickets, since the plan is not intended to condone deliberate traffic violations but to excuse honest mistakes.

The commissioner said officers will be asked to check carefully to see that drivers from nearby out-of-state communities do not abuse the privilege.

He said the plan will be given a fair trial since the Police Department wants to do its part to encourage business in this city.

Man Collapses, Dies At Meeting

William E. Schneider, 56, Celanese Corporation employee, collapsed and died while attending a meeting at the Red Men's Hall, Frederick Street, about 9:30 last night.

Dr. H. V. Deming, county medical examiner, attributed death to a heart condition, and said Schneider was dead upon his arrival at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was taken after he collapsed at the hall.

Governor Says Worthless Bills Not Emergency

Advocates Home Rule To Avoid Mix-Ups

ANNAPOLIS, April 17 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said tonight he saw no emergency warranting a special session in the fact three bills passed by the 1953 Legislature apparently are worthless.

He said the whole mixup was a good argument for granting "home rule" to Maryland's cities and towns.

The governor declared he found "at this moment" no good reason for a special session in a statement to his office from Kansas City. He speaks there tomorrow night in behalf of the Israeli bond drive as part of a nation-wide speaking tour with which he is combining a vacation.

Situation Not Serious

Before leaving he had announced he didn't think the situation was serious enough to call back the Legislature because a rent-control bill for Baltimore City, Hagerstown and Allegany County was found defective.

Later it developed a measure to reduce the tax on mutual savings banks may be invalid. And today it appeared one of the session's major actions, revising the assessment system, was improperly passed. The trouble was the same as with the rent bill—Senate and House adopted different versions.

"I cannot see where the failure of the assessment bill would create an immediate emergency in any subdivision of the state," McKeldin said. "Certainly if it would, I would like to know more about the details before rushing into the convening of the General Assembly."

He said it wasn't clear yet whether the flaw in the bank-tax bill was fatal, but hinted he wouldn't be too disturbed if it were. The banks have "existed and prospered" for years with the present tax level, he said.

"It would take a wild flight of the imagination to find an emergency in this instance," he added.

Mistakes Understandable

The proposal to reduce the levy became a white-hot topic among Baltimore legislators, for all but one of the state's savings banks are in the city. The other is in Silver Spring, Montgomery County.

The finding of mistakes in the assessment and bank bills increased pressure for a special session, but the governor repeated he saw no dire circumstances to demand consideration before the regular session next February.

Clerical errors could be alarming, he said, and appear to be a result of the system in Maryland.

'Indeed, with the great mass of trivial local legislation with which the Legislature and clerical forces must deal, it sometimes seems amazing that more mistakes are not made," McKeldin said.

The assessment bill amounted to this:

Three-Year Cycle

In 1951 the Legislature enacted a new assessment plan, which calls for placing the reassessments on a three-year cycle instead of the present five-year cycle, at the end of this year.

But the three-year plan enacted two years ago calls for freezing all new assessments until each county is covered every three years—which means that new assessment figures would be frozen for a three-year period.

The revised plan passed by the last General Assembly provided that new assessments would become effective immediately, but if the revised plan is judged unconstitutional, it means the 1951 act still will become effective.

Weather

Spring came back to the Queen City yesterday as a bright cheerful sun splashed shadows over the area. A swift, warm wind swept the city all day, but mercury climbed to a high of 63 degrees according to Constitution Park weather station. Low was 38 and at 8 o'clock last night, thermometers stood at 53 degrees. Humidity at 6 p. m. was a dry 40 per cent. The Weather Bureau predicts cloudy and rather warm weather for today followed by rain this afternoon.

New Publication Discusses B&O, Western Md. Railways

NEW YORK — The Baltimore and Ohio, the Pennsylvania, and Western Maryland are among 11 United States railroads discussed by Col. H. A. McBride in "Trains Rolling" published this week by The MacMillan Company.

Each of these roads has some special field of superiority, Col. McBride notes. B. and O. has shown the whole country how a railroad should be built and operated for the public good and what it could be expected to accomplish in developing America's unlimited resources. The Pennsylvania's New York-Washington main stem is the most phenomenal piece of railroad in the world, carrying the heaviest passenger traffic in the United States. And Western Maryland excels all others in the care it takes of its rolling stock.

In "Trains Rolling" Col. McBride tells the stories of 11 American railroads and of Union Station in the nation's capital. The book also includes chapters on the railroads of Morocco, Western Germany, and Spain, and is illustrated with 237 photographs taken by the author.

Col. H. A. McBride's lifelong hobby has been railroads. For years he has been studying them, writing about them and photographing them. For almost 30 years he has served in the U. S. Foreign Service, and he was an assistant to the secretary of State under secretaries Stimson and Hull. He is now administrator of the National Gallery of Art in Washington.
